Tall Buildings Sway, Thousands Of Persons Alarmed —No Damage Done

EARTH SHUDDERS IN LARGE AREA

Police And Newspapers Deluged With Calls From Alarmed People

(International News Service)

Pennsylvanians felt a strange and new sensation early today when thousands were jarred out of their sleep by mild earthquake shocks which rocked buildings, broke windows, upset chinaware but did little if any other damage.

The University of Pittsburgh seismograph showed the shocks began in Pittsburgh at exactly one minute and four seconds after 1 o'clock this morning and continued with varying intensity for 12 minutes. The needle gave indications of minor disturbances for another hour.

Slight earthquake tremors, the first in this state in recent times, shook many Pennsylvania cities early today, alarming thousands of residents, causing tall buildings to sway but otherwise resulting in no damage.

The temblors, which spiraled northeastward from the western section of the state, occurred at about 1:06 this morning and lasted but a minute.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

To facilitate parking on the Diamond, it has been suggested to Pa Newc that it would be a wise plan to mark off car spaces with painted lines and then see that automobiles stayed inside of these lines. Some negligent drivers take up space enough for several cars, being unmindful of the rights of the other fellow.

To wake suddenly out of one's sleep and feel as though the house might be going to shake to pieces, was the unusual experience of local residents at 1:10 this morning. It was the earthquake out in Helena, Mont. One of Pa Newc's boys saw his wife raise up in bed, and thought she had been frightened and was shaking with fright. She had difficulty in convincing her husband that this was not the case, and that they were in the midst of a genuine earth temblor.

One New Castle resident told Pa Newc this morning that he was awakened during the early morning by the knocker on his front door rattling violently for nearly a minute. He went down stairs and investigated, but there was no one at the door. Later he was convinced that it was the earthquake shock that had been responsible.

There was a bombadment all around the city this morning, as the hunters got into action. Game must have been plentiful on the outskirts of the city, from the number of shots that were fired in close poximity to the city.

Eastern Seaboard Is Alarmed By Quake Shocks Early Today

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Three distinct earthquake shocks threw the eastern seaboard from Montreal and Toronto in the north to Baltimore and Washington in the south into a state of near-terror early today.

The temblors were felt with varying degrees of intensity at various points but comparatively little damage resulted and, so far as could be determined, there was none injured.

According to Father Joseph J. Lynch, head of the physics department at Fordham university, the shocks were felt at 1:05.50 o'clock; 1:06.46 o'clock, and 1.07 o'clock.

Skyscrapers Not Affected

Oddly enough, occupants of skyscrapers in the financial district and the canyon of lower Broadway were unaware of the 'quake until they were called by newspaper offices to ascertain whether the temblor had affected the towering structures.

MOVE VETERANS FROM HOSPITAL

Two Men Repairing Damage Of First Quake Are Killed On Thursday

(International News Service)

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 1.—A special train bearing 90 World War veterans from the Fort Harrison hospital left here early today for Walla Walla, Wash., taking ailing ex-service men away from the terrors of quake-torn Helena, where another severe shock cost the lives of two men Thursday and put nearly a score in hospitals.

The veterans taken from Fort Harrison will be placed in similar institution at Walla Walla and at Roseburg, Ore.

Ruins Many Buildings

Thursday's shock, equal in intensity to that of October 18 which likewise took two lives, but striking a city weakened by three weeks of almost continual shaking, did widespread damage, ruining many buildings damaged by earlier shocks.

Repairing the chimney of the Kessler Brewery, Ed O'Brien, 35, and a man named Kennedy, about 40, whose full name police have been unable to learn, were killed when the shock toppled their scaffolding.

Nearly a score of others were treated for minor injuries and released before their identity could be ascertained.

The severe temblor occurred at 11:43 a. m. and was followed at intervals by the usual lighter shocks, hundreds of which have occurred

Blumquist Case Suspect Absolved

NOT IDENTIFIED BY WITNESSES

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—State police after an investigation of his resemblance to an artist's sketch of one of the suspects today absolved Harry Stoner, 29, of Pittsburgh, of any complicity in the murder of Frank L. Blumquist, New Castle plumber.

Stoner and two other men arrested with him as suspected automobile thieves were taken to the state police barracks at Butler and Zelienople for possible identification. Several persons who viewed them declared they were not the men sought, State Police Sergeant Harold Pierce reported.

State police at Butler employed an artist to make a sketch from descriptions given by persons who saw Blumquist's supposed slayers leap from a car they wrecked at Harmony as they fled from the killing. Stoner denied any knowledge of the Blumquist murder.

Conneautville Bank Robbed

Three Bandits In Holdup This Morning — Get About $5,000

FLEE ACROSS OHIO LINE AFTER ROBBERY

(International News Service)

CONNEAUTVILLE, Pa., Nov. 1.—Three heavily armed bandits, one of them dressed as a hunter, held up the Farmers National bank here today and fled with about $5,000, taking with them two employes as hostages who were thrown from their car a few blocks away.

The bandits forced F. A. Heyl, cashier, and Mrs. Evelyn Kerr, a clerk, to lie on the floor while they looted the cash drawers. They forced Heyl and Mrs. Kerr to stand on the running boards of their car as they roared out of town toward the Ohio border and then turned north.

"The three men came into the bank about 25 minutes after it opened, Heyl said. "One remained on guard at the door. The other two came over and told Mrs. Kerr to lie on the floor. They backed me up against the wall and then made me open the safe. Then they made me lie down on the floor, too.

Vast Army Of Small Game Hunters Start Bombardment In Woods

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Uninviting weather notwithstanding, the sporting element of Pennsylvania which could get away from the everyday grind of office life forsook the cities for the country today as the small game hunting season opened with a bang.

The tramp of the hunters began long before dawn and in numbers which would put the average army force in Ethiopia to shame. More than half a million Pennsylvanians were estimated to have licenses permitting them to shoot rabbits, squirrels and game birds.

The season's opening day weather was disappointing in all parts of the state. The eastern section had rain and the rest of the state reported dull, cloudy skies which threatened to loose a deluge at any time. Fog complicated matters in the western end of the state.

Something new in insurance! Lloyds of England have now added another department—they will also insure your career. Miss Joy Hodges, former Des Moines, Ia., church choir singer, is their first client in that line. The beauty has obtained a $250,000 accident and life insurance policy carrying a rider guaranteeing her earning at least $125,000 for the next three-year period. The actress signed a Hollywood contract expecting to net her $271,000 and hence the career insurance would be effective only if her earnings fell below $125,000.

New Castle Airport Included In State Improvement Plan

By J. WILLIAM THEIS

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1. — A $14,000,000 airport development program that would place Pennsylvania indeliby on the nation's "air map" and provide jobs for thousands of persons now on relief has been submitted to Washington by WPA administrator Edward N. Jones.

The aviation projects, Jones said today, have been approved already by the department of commerce and are now before WPA administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

Drawn by Major John P. Morris, state WPA aviation director, the program as submitted recommends the allocation of $12,941,629 to construct 16 entirely new municipal airports and to modernize and improve 62 other scattered throughout the state. The balance of $1,085,773 would come from local sponsors.

Allocations in each case are con-

Carrots Wear Rings In M. Cox's Garden

Mrs. Cox Makes Unusual Discovery While Preparing Mess For Dinner

What is the use of going to a jewelry store to buy a diamond ring when you can dig one up in your garden?

That's what Morris Cox of West Washington street extension wants to know.

Mr. Cox dug a mess of carrots yesterday. He took them into the house and Mrs. Cox started to pare them. She had just nipped the top of a carrot with her paring knife when the blade struck something hard. It proved to be a ring, with a stone setting.

The carrot was about four inches long. The ring with the stone setting was about an inch from the top. The ring had evidently been in the ground and the carrot had grown through it. The carrot was much larger above the ring, so that the top looked like a head, a baby's head, if you please, and two little rootlets looked like its legs.

The setting in the ring shown brilliantly when polished. It may be a diamond, and then again it may not. Anyway it's one of the best nature stories of the season.

Here's Explanation Of Morning Shock

(International News Service)

ALBANY, Nov. 1—How state capital scientists explain the earthquake which last night shook a large section of the eastern seaboard:

Dr. D. H. Newland, state geologist—

"This morning's shocks may have been due to any of the many faults in this section. These are 'Logan's fault,' extending throughout the Appalachian mountains; several on the east side of the Adirondacks, and others along Lake Champlain and Lake George.

"The origin goes back millions of years when the earth was first forming. Rocks then thrown into position by various means did not dovetail. As the ages pass, they begin to slip and from time to time occasion the quakes. Most of the heavy shocks, of course, are in the west, in the Orient and the Mediterranean. The eastern section of our country is generally thought 'seismographically proof,' so far as serious quakes are concerned.

"Today's quake had no connection with those shaking Montana."

Dr. Benjamin Boss, director of Dudley observatory:—

"The quake, continuing for 54 seconds, was quite heavy for this section. We attribute it to ancient fissures extending through most of upstate New York. It was similar to one experienced in this state about 12 years ago, the reason goes back to when the earth was first forming."

Both Dr. Ross and Dr. Newland agree there is little danger of immediate recurrence of the quakes.

Hallowe'en Event On South Side Is Huge Success

Estimate 10,000 Share In Annual Celebration Of October 31

MANY MUMMERS AWARDED PRIZES

Ideal Weather Aids In Making Program Most Notable Of Years

Echoes of laughter and gaiety resounded throughout the South Side district as more than 10,000 persons gathered last night for the annual South Side Hallowe'en celebration and parade. The affair was easily the biggest and most successful event of its kind sponsored by the South Side merchants.

With ideal weather prevailing, as early as 6:30 o'clock the crowd of spectators and mummers commenced to swarm in the South Side. From that time until late in the evening, merriment was supreme.

Huge Parade.

Headed by Grand Marshal Ivor V. Davis, the parade moved out from the corner of Hamilton street and East Long avenue at 7:40 o'clock. A contingent of enthusiastic South Side merchants, all carrying bright flares, followed the grand marshal. The splendid senior high band was next in order followed by scores of mummers who were attired in every imaginable creation. The Croton band, more masqueraders and dozens of automobiles and trucks completed the procession. The bands blared out appropriate musical selections which met with the approval of the throng.

From East Long avenue the parade wended its way towards South

League Committee Sets Date For Penalizing Italy To Start

League Authorities Expect Germany Will Not Oppose Sanctions Success

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

GENEVA, Nov. 1.—With 48 nations already pledged to impose economic sanctions—the most severe form of punishment yet ordered against Italy—and with hopes of peace growing hourly more remote. The league of nations sanctions coordination committee today set Nov. 15 as the date for formal application of boycotts and embargoes on Italy.

After these measures have been in effect for one month, or until about Dec. 15, the coordinating committee of 52 will meet again to consider the momentous question of whether, if they have failed, more severe steps should be taken.

Expect German Aid

With the United States already pledged to a stand of strict neutrality, Germany was expected to lend moral support to the sanctions program today. League authorities expected a note from Berlin stating the Reich would maintain neutrality and not seek war profits. The Reich also was expected to announce an arms embargo against both Italy and Ethiopia.

While preparations went forward for the economic offensive, within two weeks, major diplomats of France and Britain half-heartedly resumed their "explorations" to find some scheme of Ethiopian territoral and administrative readjust-

Tremor Is Felt In New Castle And Vicinity

NO SERIOUS DAMAGE HERE

Many Buildings Are Affected — Some People Leave Apartments In Alarm

Buildings vibrated noticeably, doors swayed, windows and dishes rattled, and beds were shaken, at 1:08 a. m. today, when a slight earthquake shock occurred in New Castle and Lawrence county. No damage of a serious nature has been reported as a result of the quake, however. The tremor lasted for about 45 seconds.

Marion J. Young, sergeant of police, was one of the first to notice the tremor. He said the windows and doors at police headquarters rattled and swayed and within a few moments telephone calls poured into his office. Some people suspected burglars were in their homes and others believed an explosion had occurred.

Isaac E. Anwyl Reports Unusual Experience While Traveling In South

Some of the old Southern customs are very pleasing, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Anwyl have found out after a motor trip through the South. They have just returned, and with them, Miss Lottie Nicklin who made the trip also.

In Chattanooga, Tenn., Mr. Anwyl parked his car at the curb on one of the streets. Returning he noticed a tag on the door and visioned a trip to a traffic court and a fine of five dollars.

To his surprise he found the tag was one that said "Welcome Visitor. Chattanooga extends to you the glad hand and hopes you will return early and often. Chattanooga Police Department."

On the other side the card reads "This card entitles you to park your car as long as you please in Chattanooga. Never mind the time limit, but please be reasonable. Please do not park in safety zone or near fire hydrants. Approved Eugene Bryan, commissioner fire and police."

The tags are for the use of visitors only and there is a penalty for use by Chattanooga motorists.

When a quake breaks out in China or Australia feels a jar, or a mountain rocks in Asia or in other places far, folks don't pay so much attention, but when tremors hit nearby, they begin to think of earthquakes and the safest place to fly. It may be a tiny temblor, just a quiver and a shake, but the folks think its a honey as the dishes start to break. Sort of funny bout these earthquakes, now they're here and they're gone, must be some thing that is caused by the election coming on. Rome Students In Demonstration

Attempt To Smash Shutters Of British Travel Office In Rome

PLASTER STORES WITH POSTERS

By HUDSON HAWLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Nov. 1.—Stirred by a patriotic speech by King Victor Emanuel, students today burst into renewed anti-English demonstrations, battling police in an attempt to smash the shutters of a British travel office.

After hearing the king express his support of Premier Mussolini, students raged through via Condotti, center of the favorite English residential quarter, struggling with police.

Several Fascist officials in civilian clothes remonstrated with the police, who finally allowed the students to vent their anglophobia by pasting up big posters saying: "Buy national products and be proud of them."

Plastered With Posters

Around the corner, in via Boccabelleone, a memorial tablet stating that Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning had lived there in 1858 was not touched—for it is inscribed with the lines of Browning:

"Open my heart and you shall see graved inside of it, Italy."

Facades of practically all shops dealing in British goods were plastered with the "buy Italian" posters, but most of the stores were closed today for the All Saints' holiday.

Similar demonstrations yesterday followed a speech by Mussolini, in which he said: "This shameful economic siege would be tenaciously fought."

MANY CITIES OF PENNSYLVANIA FEEL TREMORS

offices were deluged with telephone calls of alarmed residents. Windows were broken and dishes rattled in cupboards as the earth shivered.

Residents rushed to the street in alarm at Kittanning and other communities throughout the state.

The earth's shuddering extended into New York state and Southern New Jersey and Delaware. Residents at Wilmington, Del., feared for a time the huge powder plants of the DuPont Company had blown up.

The operator of the Delaware river tidewater wireless station reported the pier on which it is located swayed from the shore end. The Pennsylvania railroad reported its operators from Baltimore to north of Chester, a distance of 200 miles, felt a slight shiver.

Many Leave Homes

The shocks were a novel experience for Pennsylvanians who in recent years have read of earthquakes in other sections of the globe but had never experienced one close at home.

Many persons fled from their homes fearing the world was coming to an end. A Pittsburgh woman, awakened from her sleep, ran into the street and clung to a telephone pole.

For the most part, the quakes were all over before many persons knew what had happened. Then the deluge of telephone calls was loosed on newspaper offices and police station.

Patients in hospitals were awakened but after inquiring of their nurses went back to sleep. Only two Pittsburgh hotels said the tremor was sufficiently strong to awaken their guests.

At Sewickley, Police Sergeant H. E. Dolde said he received 200 telephone calls an hour after the tremor which was confined to a 10-block radius in that borough. Ambridge police reported residents leaned from windows, praying.

The exchange operator at the Dixmont Hospital for the Insane along the Ohio river valley, said the tremors shook open the inner doors of the big office safe.

Guests in hotels at Cambridge Springs, a health resort, dressed hurriedly and stood about in the lobbies for more than an hour before returning to bed. A false alarm was turned in following the quake in Meadville.

Many persons reported their beds were moved several inches by the trembling. Two master clocks in a telegraph office in Pittsburgh were stopped. Wire chiefs of the telephone company checked their lines through from Pittsburgh to Atlantic City, N. J.

Railroads Aid Housing

Railroads came to the aid of local officials and met the housing problem, accentuated by driving snow and temperatures that dropped to five degrees below zero during the night. Heated coaches were provided for refugees by both the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads.

More than 100 inmates of St. Joseph's orphans' home were sheltered in coaches furnished by the Northern Pacific. Attending nuns with 26 babies from the foundling home at the same institution were quartered in the rectory of St. Helena's Cathedral.

National guardsmen, state highway patrolmen and all police officers were on duty throughout the night to meet any contingencies. Disaster Director Transue of the American Red Sross said last night that local facilities were sufficient to provide for approximately 1,000 refugees. All homeless and destitute were reported to have been taken care of.

Cursory surveys revealed heavy damage to Carroll and Intermountain Union colleges, St. Vincent's academy, St. John's hospital, the Shrine Temple, the city hall and the court house.

The program also provides for the "air marking" of 469 towns in Pennsylvania at an estimated cost of $62,267. Long sought by airmen as an added safety factor for pilots, this consists simply of identifying communties with painted roof markers.

Crossroads Ports

Five of the new ports would mark an innovation in planned aviation development—the introduction of the "crossroads airport."

Constructed in conjunction with the highways department on land to be acquired by the state, these ports would be located at highway intersections. Sites chosen in this project are near Grove City, Hazelton, Kittanning,, Lebanon and Chambersburg. The five would cost $254,000.

The 11 other new airports, designed to meet the needs of private and in some cases transport operations, are proposed for Easton, Reading O'Hara township, Allegheny county, Uniontown, and Connellsville, Washington, Waynesburg, Tarentum and Brackenridge, Lewistown, Shamokin and Mt. Carmel, Blossburg and Wellsoboro, and Danville.

Largest of the allocations recommended by Jones for an individual project was $2,050,,000 for the development of the Philadelphia Municipal airport.

In the western end of the state, Pittsburgh's city-county airport was recommended for improvements costing $950,000, of which $840,000 would be provided by the federal government.

$162,000 For New Castle

The estimated costs of the remaining eight new airports, divided by federal and sponsor contributions, respectively, included Uniontown-Connellsville, $460,000, $35,000; Washington, $155,000, $11,000; Waynesburg, $105,000, $8,500; Tarentum-Brackenridge, $220,000, $16,-000; Lewistown, $105,000, $8,500.

Included in the list of 62 airports for development or improvement were these, similarly divided as to cost: Kane, Bradford, $186,000, $12,-000; Ridgway, $142,000, $9,000; Erie, (Port Erie) $335,000, $22,000; Oil City, $105,000, $8,500; Franklin, $105,-000, $8,500; Titusville, $155,000, $11,-000; Corry, $78,000, $4,500; Indiana, $186,000, $12,000; New Castle, $162,-000, $11,000; Butler, $155,000, $11,000.

rounds in the Singer and Woolworth buildings on lower Broadway, and the Cities Service building in the heart of Wall street, said they had not noticed the subterranean upheaval and that, so far as they knew, the disturbance had not communicated itself to those buildings.

In Brooklyn thousands of sleepers were awakened and numerous instances of people being thrown out of bed were reported.

In Newark, N. J., a two family dwelling was collapsed by the temblors, but no one was injured.

Thousands Of Calls

For hours after the shocks telephone lines in all the major centres of population throughout the east were flooded with calls to newspaper offices, weather bureaus, and scientific institutions from frightened people who wanted to know if there was danger of further quakes.

New York City, because of a peculiar rock formation beneath its towering skyscrapers, had always been thought immune from earth shocks. Many persons, especially in the Wall street area, doubted their senses as they saw the buildings sway before them.

Father Lynch said he was unable to account for the quake in the east, but denied emphatically that there was any connection between it and the recurrent shocks in Montana.

All of the New England states were shaken. In Boston, the Custom House tower swayed dangerously, but no stones were dislodged.

Felt In Wide Area

Albany and up-state New York felt the temblors sharply. No property damage of consequence was reported, but in Albany, it was said, the twenty-five million dollar capitol building "swung like a rocking chair."

The shocks were noticeable in Buffalo, Rochester, Plattsburg, Kingston, Saratoga Springs and other upstate communities.

Virtually all of New Jersey reported feeling the temblors. In Camden the shocks were felt for more than 30 seconds and throughout southern New Jersey chairs were pushed around, mirrors slid from the walls and windows were broken.

Atlantic City reported the quakes were felt there, but that none of the skyscraper hotels was damaged. Hundreds of vacationers and night club merrymakers rushed to the boardwalk for safety, but there were no known injuries.

STAMPS STOLEN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—Theft of $2600 worth of postage stamps from the Allegheny county relief board offices was revealed today with the arrest of two men, one a former employe. The suspects were Max Morgan, of New Kensington, a former mailing room employe, and Charles Ehrenworth, of Pittsburgh. Police testified the men admitted stealing the stamps and selling them in New York.

Corn was cut earlier this year in Northern Ireland than in any season remembered by the oldest inhabitants.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Charles F. Porath.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Porath, aged 79 years, wife of Charles F. Porath, of 1611 Morris street, passed away at her home this forenoon at 10:50 o'clock, after an illness of some time.

She was born in Germany, December 25, 1855, but had been a resident of New Castle for the last 48 years. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Surviving are: her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Otto Bergener, of Massillon, O., and Mrs. William Ralph, of Beaver, Pa., three sons, Harry, of Oil City, Maxwell, of Canton, O., and Carl, at home; fifteen grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. A. M. Stump, of St. Paul's Lutheran church, and Rev. Charles Warren Johnstone, of the Central Christian church, in charge. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

DeAngelis Funeral Time.

Funeral mass for Faverio DeAngelis, of 115 West Lawrence street, will be celebrated at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Vitus church and interment will be made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Hancock Funeral.

Funeral services for William Hancock, Sr., Volant, R. D. 1, were conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, with Rev. William A. Lloyd, pastor of the Leesburg Presbyterian church.

Five cousins of the deceased served as flowerbearers. The pallbearers were James Wright, Burdell Wright, Harry Burgess, Dick Burgess, Harold Orr and Arthur Lewis. Interment was made in Carpenter cemetery.

William A. Johns Funeral.

The Emmanuel Baptist church was filled to capacity on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when hundreds of friends gathered to give final public tribute to one of New Castle's best known Welsh residents, the late William A. Johns, Brython, of South Mercer street.

Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church, was in charge, assisted by Rev. D. L. Ferguson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, and Griff Thomas, well known lay leader.

The congregation sang three beautiful songs, "Disgwyl R-wys Rar Hyd Yr Wyrnos," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "O Fryniau Caersalem", during the church service, accompanied by Edwin Lewis, organist of the First M. E. church. There was congregational singing at the grave, also.

The True Ivorites lodge, of which Brython was a faithful member, attended in a body and was in charge of the service at the grave in Oak Park cemetery. Benediction was given by Rev. Thomas Francis of this city.

Honorary pallbearers were David Rees, John Harvard, William Pritchard, David T. Evans, Thomas Hopkins and Thomas Francis. Active pallbearers were William Phillips, Llewellyn Thomas, Brinley Hughes, W. R. Thomas, Griffith Phillips and George Marshall.

ACCIDENT VICTIM SUFFERS RELAPSE

Bert Baker, of South Vine street, seriously injured in an automobile accident while returning home from the New Castle-Johnstown football game, is slightly improved, after suffering a relapse Sunday.

For several days his condition was regarded as critical, but some improvement was noted yesterday and today, it is stated. He is still in the Butler hospital.

No wonder we praise the old-fashioned method of training children. It was the one that produced us.

SANDY LAKE MAN DIES AS RESULT OF GUN ACCIDENT

Sandy Lake and secured an ambulance.

The injured man was rushed to the Mercer hospital, but an emergency operation failed to save his life.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Urey, Sandy Lake, was single and lived at home. In addition to his parents he leaves two brothers, Dan and James, Sandy Lake; and four sisters, Mrs. James Haylett, Franklin; Mrs. W. E. Vogan, Toledo; Mrs. Lynn McDannald, California, and Mrs. Carl Hart, Sandy Lake.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence on Saturday at 2 p. m. and interment will be in Sandy Lake cemetery.

ment swayed and his bed "wig wagged." The mayor also declared that he could hear chains on one of the doors in another apartment rattle and he arose to see what was wrong. He gazed out of the window onto the Public Square but could see no damage.

Patrolman Robert Dukes said that he was told by a man who was in the Johnson building that the building rocked. Reports sent to the police station from the Relief office said pictures on the walls swayed to and fro. A cigarette lighter in a South Mill street restaurant rocked for some time from the shock.

Many Phone Calls

Calls from rural sections were received at the city police station, according to Sergeant Young. The report said that they had felt a shock. The tremor was felt throughout the country districts but so far as is known no damage was done in the city or county.

From all over the district similar reports of the quake are being received this morning, and press reports show that the shock was general all over Eastern United States and parts of Canada.

In a number of buildings in New Castle, occupants who were aroused by the quake shock left the structures because of the fear that a worse quake would follow and that real damage would be done.

War leaders must be essentially childish. Nobody else would expect people to believe such official war news.

These selfish, greedy go-getters must be suppressed—but not, of course, till they have piled up something for us to divide.

DINNER EVENT AT W. W. CAMPBELL HOME

As guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Campbell, in their New Wilmington home, Thursday evening, the 1914 Book club with the husbands as special guests, enjoyed an excellent dinner at 7 o'clock, followed by a delightfully informal entertainment.

There were 29 present, and decorations about the house were beautiful chrysanthemums and other fall flowers. Serving as the committee were: Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. B. F. Butler, Mrs. Thomas Ashcom Mrs. W. M. Eckles, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. W. P. Felch.

In the evening, Mr. Campbell presented twelve vocalists, these coming from Sharon, New Castle and New Wilmington. They offered a half hour's program of beautiful music, solos and ensemble work, the soloists being Anna Mary Shaffer, John Cassidy, Irene Antal and Monas Harlan. Afterwars, some of the group found diversion in bridge, while others just visited.

This afternoon, the club women had their regular luncheon and afternoon assembly in the home of Mrs. B. F. Butler, North Jefferson street.

CARAVAN DAY TO DRAW LARGE CROWD

Indications point to a large attendance for Caravan Day which will be held by the Woman's club of New Castle in conjunction with the Lawrence County Federation next Monday, November 4, in Epworth M. E. church.

At 10:15, a business meeting of the Woman's club is called, others arriving at 10:45 for the opening of the morning session, this latter group including all women having guests' tickets. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 for which reservations must be made with Mrs. Harry L. Gormley by Saturday noon.

CHILDREN MAKE MERRY AT MASQUERADE PARTY

Kindergarten kiddies of Margaret Whieldon and Kathryn Nessle Allen had a big day Thursday, enjoying a masquerade party in the kindergarten rooms on Wilmington avenue.

All work was laid side for the morning, the little tots representing all kinds of people, westerners, Dutch boys and girls, Africans, and Micky Mouses having a playday filled with a variety of games, which was climaxed when a dancing clown arrived. After performing many antics, "she" showered the children with lollypops.

As a concluding feature, Glen Carpenter took their pictures, the group of 36 arranging themselves about the big fireplace which was appropriately decorated with big pumpkins and other Hallowe'en suggestions.

This morning marked another high spot in the lives of the kindergartners, little Donnie Cohn entertaining his associates at a private showing of a well known picture at one of the local theatres.

WHYLE-AWAY MEMBERS HAVE DESSERT-BRIDGE

Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, members of the Whyle-Away club met in the home of Mrs. Elmer Fehl on Ray sctreet, for a dessert-bridge party. Appointments were in keeping with the Hallowe'en season, place cards, favors and flowers, being carried out in vivid colors suggestive of the present holidays.

Bridge occupied attention during the hours that followed, honor score awards going to Mrs. Jack Melvin and Mrs. Elmer Fehl, while the "galloping" trophy was carried off by Mrs. John Morgan.

In two weeks, the club will meet in the home of Mrs. William Jones on Highland avenue, for their regular event.

DINNER-DANCE PLANS ENGINEERS SOCIETY

Plans are underway for a dinner-dance to be given in The Castleton Friday evening, November 15, by the Mahoning and Shenango Valley Engineers society. The affair will be strictly informal in nature, with many guests from Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City, Sharon and other neighboring places in attendance.

A meeting of the committee is headed by E. L. Davenport, was held Thursday in the service room of the P. O. company. Other committee members include the following: Eleanor Colgan, Katherine Van Dyke, Thomas Paden, Numa Vidal, Eugene Scanlon, Jack Boyles, Don Allen of New Castle; Margaret Clyde Al Milbranch, Don Jones, Ellwood City; assisted by the A. S. M. E. of Youngstown, Frank Bower, chairman; the A. I. E. E. of Sharon, Mr. Childs chairman.

Special guests for this occasion will be industrial heads from New Castle and vicinity, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Buffalo.

HUNDRED FIFTY AT "BIRTHDAY DINNER"

One hundred fifty members of the Central Presbyterian church were guests of the Central Circle Thursday evening at a "birthday dinner," in the church dining room.

It was probably the nicest social evening in the church this season and much credit goes to Miss Blanche Bright and Mrs. John Atkinson who headed the committees of arrangements.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at twelve tables representing the months of the year. A splendid program was presented later, with contributions from each table.

The January table, in charge of Mrs. Grant Fisher, gave one verse from each of a number of song hits of the year. For February Leonard Campbell spoke briefly of the lives of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington and the inspiration engendered in the hearts of the generations which followed. For March Robert Duff sang, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

Dr. C. B. Wingerd, speaking for the April birthday group, told a number of clever anecdotes. May was represented by several lovely spring songs by Miss Margaretta Hess. The June offering was a reading, "When Mother Had the Aid," by Miss Twila Barbour. July brought the "Declaration of Independence" by Miss June Campbell, and August, "How Oswald Performed" by Robert Duff. William McCombs directed the singing of "School Days," as a September contribution, and Mrs. C. B. Wingerd for October, read "the monthly horoscopes.

An appropriate Thanksgiving song by Miss Hess brought the program up to November, and a reading on "Christmas Shopping" by Miss Dorothy Barnsley ended a most delightful "year."

During the evening pep singing was led by William McCombs.

EVENING BRIDGE FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Geraldine Turk entertained at an informal bridge Wednesday evening, a group of guests in the home of Mrs. Viola Healy, Wilmington avenue, to do honor to Miss Florence Wright, bride-elect of November 9.

Four tables of players entered into the contract contest, with prizes falling to Gertrude Wolf, Mrs. W. Glenn McCracken of Volant, and Mrs. Philip Sargeant, at conclusion of play. The hostess served a dainty collation.

Miss Wright was presented with a lovely gift during the course of the evening's festivities.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB HOLD "GAY NINETIES" PARTY

Tin types for ideas, old family trunks containing quaint clothing, stored in attics, and other heirlooms of the "long ago" were claimed this past week by a group of young folks known as the Y's Men's club, their wives and lady friends, in preparation for the gala "Gay Nineties" party staged Thursday evening at Camp Fred Rentz, that would well recall the dates Grandma and Grandpa had when a boy and a girl, to the N'th degree.

The occasion marked one of the club's outstanding festivities, planned for the Fall season, and proved a decided accomplishment in every way.

The women, attired in crisp taffetta ruffled gowns, hiding their slim ankles, and bonnets with huge plumes adding further to their heights, others with numerous petticoats, and hoop skirts, all gotten from treasured boxes and trunks put away in safe keeping, added much to the picturesque setting about the camp last evening, as the guests mingled with their husbands and escorts, dressed in tune with their outfits. The gents, some with sideburns, long mustaches, the typical high choking collars, and bow ties, with proper accessories, and suits of obsolete patterns, completed the setting of the joyous occasion. It was further pepped up however, with one modern character, Mae West, portrayed by one of the men of the group.

Prizes for custumes, were awarded the following, the first going to Mrs. James Messner for the most exquisite gown; Ralph Huffman walked off with the men's prize, and the most comic outfit was worn by Eric Olsen, received an award.

Games and contests in keeping with the occasion, were entered into with a fun making spirit, the trophies falling to Mrs. Sid Lockley, L. Lockley, Gerald McElhaney, Mrs. Harold Kerr and Virginia Duff. The serving of refreshments, concluded the evenings festivities.

James Messner, chairman of the entire affair, with Harold Ramsey and Erie Olsen, assistants, were responsible for the complete success of the evening.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF REV. AND MRS. PARKS

Of interest to many New Castle people is the golden wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Frank W. Parks, which was celebrated at their home in North East, Pa., October 26. Many friends, as well as relatives were present, as the Parks family is well known, Rev. Parks having served eight years in Potter county, and at Lewis Run, Marienville, Mayburn, Phillipsburg, Sharpsville and New Castle, before going to North East where he is now beginning his fourth year.

Eight of the 12 children of the revered couple were present. Both Rev. and Mrs. Parks are natives of Cherry Creek, N. Y. They lived in the west until 1889, when they came to Bradford, Pa. Mr. Parks entered the oil business and continued in this line of work until 1902 when he became a minister in the Oil Creek Free Methodist conference.

Ten Ivory Club Party

Hallowe'en was observed by the Ten Ivory club girls on Thursday evening when they met in the home of Theresia Fazzone on Lutton street, in costume. Prizes for originality in the attire displayed were won by Mrs. Joseph DeLillo and Miss Fazzone.

Entertainment was found in card contests and games, and following this part of the program, lunch was served by the hostess. Special guests in attendance included Mrs. Reta Nativio and Mrs. Madeline Cialella.

In two weeks Mrs. Joseph Pauline of Clearview avenue will receive the club.

LaScola Three-Seven

Mr. and Mrs. Sam LaScola, of East Washington street, pleasantly received members of the LaScola Three-Seven club in their home Tuesday night. Cards and music were popular pastimes. A delicious waffle lunch was served during the course of the evening.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaScola, 906 West Washington street, on Tuesday, November 5.

ALASKAN PROGRAM AT D. A. R. MEETING

Preceding the general assembly of Lawrence chapter, D. A. R. members, Saturday afternoon, in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A., there will be a board session at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell will be the afternoon's hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. R. Balph, chairman, Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, Mrs. John Norris, Misses Gevien Stevenson, Sara and Viola Wallace.

Featuring the program will be an illustrated talk by Miss Marian Campbell of the Ben Franklin school faculty, on her summer trip to Alaska. Leaving New Castle by motor, in company with other friends, early in June, Miss Campbell drove to Seattle, where the group took a boat for Alaskan points. Her itinerary took her to Wrangel, Cordova and Katchacan. From Fairbanks, the party went by plane to within 50 miles of the Arctic Circle, visiting Seward and Juneau, primitive towns in the far north.

The speaker will also tell of the new colonization town which was established by the United States in Alaska the past year.

KRAUSE-MAZUR WEDDING NEWS

A pretty home wedding of Thursday evening, Oct. 31, was that which took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arno Krause of East Brook, when their daughter, Miss Julia Krause, became the bride of George Mazur of Mahoningtown. The vows were exchanged at eight o'clock in the presence of relatives and a few friends of the young couple, with the Rev. H. H. Marlin officiating with the ring ceremony.

The bride chose for her wedding gown a crepe of a dainty shade of blue, with harmonizing accessories, and shoulder corsage of tea roses. They were unattended.

Immediately afterwards a wedding dinner, with appointments carried out in white, was served in the bride's home. Covers marked for 12 at the bridal table, which was centered with a beautiful cake, surmounted with a bride and groom in miniature. Clusters of baby mums were used in a decorative manner throughout the rooms.

The guests in attendance at the ceremony, included Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Marlin, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reeher and daughter Wilda, Mrs. Thomas McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bonzo and children, Shirley and Bobby; Elizabeth Davis and Webb Ramsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Mazur have dispensed with a wedding trip for the present and are at home to friends at the bride's parents' residence in East Brook. He is affiliated with the Haney Furniture Company of this city.

COSMO CLUB DANCE SUCCESSFUL EVENT

Third annual Hallowe'en dance, sponsored by the Cosmo club at the New Castle Field club Thursday night, was undoubtedly one of the major successes on its yearly calendar.

The dance floor seemed to breathe of eerie spooks and goblins. The air itself was heavily laden with that Hallowe'en atmosphere, what with all the horns, noisemakers and clackers distributed by the entertainment committee. Novel hats were given to the ladies and their partners, and special favors were given to all the ladies.

H. Ruzewich, the chairman of the entertainment committee, was well rewarded for his efforts and those of his entire committee, which included T. Marlin, H. Wolf, T. Frank, H. Cohen and Dr. H. Sloan. Irv Grossman, the president of the Cosmo club, takes this opportunity of publicly thanking H. Ruzewich, chairman of the entertainment committee, and D. Victor, chairman of the house committee, which aided the dance committee, for their efforts in obtaining such a splendid success.

Semper Fidelis Club.

Gathering in the home of Mrs. Elrick Scarazzo, Laurel boulevard, for their regular meeting Thursday evening, members of the Semper Fidelis club were charmingly entertained. The event was in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

Following a business meeting, at which time plans were completed for a theatre party next week, cards were enjoyed. Those winning prizes were Mrs. James Cherol, Mrs. Michael Felasco and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo. At an appropriate time the hostess, assisted by her daughter, served an appetizing luncheon. Special guests included Mrs. D. Monsey, Mrs. A. Recupio and Mrs. J. Leonardson. The affair was most successful.

In two weeks Mrs. Carm Sacco of East Lutton street will receive the club.

Y. O. A. Girls Meet

A delightful event for the Y. O. A. Girls club was held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Johnston, Northview avenue. The hours were pleasantly passed by with cards, the trophy falling to Mrs. Anna Wagner for holding top score.

In serving a tasty collation, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Frank Clinefelter. Seasonal decorations were used in the table appointments.

Their next meeting will not take place until four weeks, which falls on November 27, with Mrs. J. A. Porter, of Laurel Boulevard, hostess.

Hallowe'en Party

Miss Carolyn Piccari, Cunningham avenue, entertained a group of friends at a delightful Hallowe'en party, last evening.

Games and music were the popular pastimes. Later in the evening a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Nancy Colella.

Marriage Announced.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of Oak street of the marriage of their daughter, Sarah Eileen, to Wayne M. Dahl of Ashtabula, O. The ceremony took place on October 26 at Wellsburg, W. Va., with the Rev. H. J. Matheny officiating.

B. P. W. CLUB PLANS NOVEMBER PROGRAM

Two meetings planned for the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club for the month of November promise to be very interesting.

For the November 4 meeting, following dinner in the Y. W. C. A. at 5:45 o'clock, Miss Verlee Armstrong will show the members how to amuse themselves for twenty minutes with pencil and paper. A business session is also to be conducted at this time.

On November 18 the education committee is planning a "good time" program, with its main objective an educational idea of a different type.

November 25 the executive board will meet at 7:45 p. m., at the Y.

Masquerade Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morrison was the scene of a masquerade party one evening this week for many young people. The masked crowd guessed identities of one another, the prizes for the funniest costumes going to Bob Thompson and Emerson McQuire, for the ladies Blanche Brown and Betty Morrison.

There were 40 present who enjoyed an evening of games, with lunch later by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Henry, Mrs. G. A. Boyd and Mrs. F. R. Weisz.

Jolly Twelve Club

Mrs. H. B. McConnell, of Round street, extended hospitality to members of the Jolly Twelve Club at her residence Thursday evening, with Mrs. John Lusk, of Kittanning, participating as a special guest.

Cards, chat and music were diversions, the prizes for the afternoon contest falling to Mrs. George Jones and Mrs. Mary Thayer. In serving delicious refreshments, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Albert Perkins. Hallowe'en decorations were cleverly used throughout in the room and luncheon appointments.

Their next meeting with Mrs. Charles Gardner of East Brook will be an event of Thursday, November 14.

1907 Club Entertained

Wednesday evening, the 1907 Club members were guests in the home of Mrs. Joe O'Laughlin, on West Washington street. She entertained informally with cards, prizes being captured by Mrs. George Woodring and Mrs. James O'Laughlin at conclusion of play.

In serving lunch the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Dorothy Jane. Autumnal tones prevailed throughout in the decorations. In two weeks, Mrs. Jack Logue of Boroline street will entertain.

1931 Glendale Bridge

A dessert-bridge party was held in the home of Mrs. Clyde Nicholson, Hillcrest avenue, Wednesday afternoon, for members of the 1931 Glendale Bridge Club members. Hallowe'en appointments prevailed, and folowing the serving, cards interested the women. Prizes were won by Mrs. John B. Clark and Mrs. Stevens Skuba.

In two weeks, Mrs. Roy Samuels of Fairmont avenue, will entertain

$1,500,000 Obligation For Taxpayers Not Desirable

NEXT Tuesday, voters of New Castle are confronted with a decision on the proposal of bonding the city of New Castle for the huge sum of $1,500,000 for the purpose of establishing a municipal electric system.

An affirmative vote of a majority of the citizens who enter the polls would load this huge debt upon the city. It would have to be paid. Every property in the city, and every person in the municipality will be inescapably responsible for its payment.

What appear to be extravagant claims have been made as to the manner in which a municipal electric system would take care of meeting this huge debt. There has been a lot of activity in presenting rates and figures, tending to show this or that benefit.

But, an outstanding fact that citizens of New Castle should reflect upon seriously, is that a favorable vote for this huge bond issue would provide an immense sum for an enterprise that will be largely a local political experiment, and that upon the outcome of the experiment, the question of reasonable return, let alone visioned surplus and profits, would depend.

There is scant reason to believe other than that the proposed municipal venture would be one politically dominated and operated, with all of the attendant uncertainty and inefficiency that such a situation offers. Likewise, with the attendant question of patronage afflicting every municipal election.

New Castle's experience with a municipal ownership venture expected to prove self liquidating and a revenue producer, has not been such as to warrant confidence in glowing promises. Most significant is the municipal conduit project. Several decades ago, advocates of the municipal conduit system carried their program through. At large expense to the taxpayers, the system was built, with the idea that rentals would meet the cost and net a return to the city as well. After years of argument and court tests, it was found that experts who presented the municipal proposal must have erred, for the effort to force high and low tension wires into the same conduit failed, and much of the rental return expected was lost. Climaxing the experiment was the development of a few years since, when the city, convinced that it was a non-profitable venture, sold the entire system to the Bell Telephone company for much less than it cost to construct. Further, money realized from the sale was used to provide "made work" for unemployed, so that from the standpoint of return on the original investment to the city as a municipality it was a near total loss.

At the present time, there are advocates of bonding the city for a million and a half dollars for another experiment in municipal ownership. We grant their sincerity, but once the step is taken, New Castle must meet that debt. Chances are, we believe, much against the alluring promises made for the municipal electric system materializing, despite the array of figures that can be manipulated in an effort to show that it will not add to the tax burden. And, there is just one sure way of taking care of reverses in the matter of expected returns, by adding to the taxpayer's burden.

It has not been the policy of the New Castle News to seek to dictate to the people on any matter, but we believe that the $1,500,000 bond issue proposal will be soundly defeated, next Tuesday, and well it should.

New Castle wants no huge addition to its tax liabilities, or debt, at this time for any purpose, much less political experimenting.

FIRST TRAIN RIDE

Recently a group of 430 officers and men of the 118th Engineers regiment journeyed by railroad from Rhode Island to the First Army maneuvers in Pine Camp, New York. It has been learned that 344 of those young fellows, averaging 21 years of age, had never before ridden on a railroad train. This was not because they had never done any traveling, but because they had always used automobiles.

There must be a good many other young men and women in the country who have never been on railroad trains. By the time they were ready for travel, the motor car had already become the most popular American conveyance for whole families and particularly for the younger members of families.

It is not surprising that the railroads, which didn't do much at the start to counteract the growing competition of the auto, dropped behind in the race and lost money as well as passengers and prestige. Would it not be smart of them now, particularly those running out of good-sized cities, to offer special novelty excursions for young people who have never had the experience of railroad travel?

Still, if you really wish to be educated, it often helps to start with a college diploma.

Brains alone won't help you. The land is full of able people who fail for want of brass.

China's Shakespeare.
Can Women Write Songs?
$100,000,000 For Airports.
Starving Improves Mice.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MR. HSIUNG, called "China's Shakespeare," arrives with his pretty wife, six inches shorter than he, which makes him five feet tall.

Her pleasing name is Dymia, meaning "black plum blossom." Her husband's latest play, "Lady Precious Stream" ran 400 nights in London, and you may see it here.

Mr. Hsiung thinks American men will not understand "our Chinese philosophy of love." Maybe not, but they might try.

Movies have greatly influenced China, says the Shakespeare of the east, "some of our women even are becoming platinum blondes."

MR. HERBERT R. MAYES, learned editor of Pictorial Review, asks: "Can women write songs?" and to settle the question, offers a prize of one thousand dollars for the best song written by a woman, sent to Pictorial Review, New York City, not later than November 30.

Mr. Mayes' question was answered in the affirmative by Sappho 2600 years ago. She surely provided music for her wonderful description of evening that brings home the sheep and the goats and brings back the child to its mother.

The greatest song writers should be the women, especially older women, in whose minds and hearts memory is always writing "words and music."

IT IS announced by Mr. Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce, that government will spend $100,000,000 building airports "in every state of the nation." Something must be done to put to work 3,500,000 "employables" by December 1.

Airport building might include building parallel highways from ocean to ocean and from north to south, with airplane landings, properly lighted, adjoining the highways at regular intervals.

Seven hundred and fifty airport projects have been approved, work will start on 250 at once. This might all be very convenient for foreign war planes if the United

CAN YOU JUDGE CHARACTER?

Almost anybody can play a practical joke on me. . . . I never seem able to develop the proper amount of skepticism. . . . It must be my trusting nature.

Accuse me of having no sense of humor and I might admit the truth of your charge. . . . Say I'm a poor judge of character, and it will be my private opinion that you are mistaken.

Charles Dickens said that nothing is truer than judging character by physiognomy 'taken in connection with manner". . . . He would not judge a man entirely by the shape of his nose or the size of his chin, but also by his conduct.

Lavater, the great physiognomist, once mistook a philosopher for a highwayman. . . . He had done more research on the subject than any man of his day, and yet in its application he made a mistake. . . . Any highpocket or confidence man would know better.

It is said, and some people believe, that babies instinctively know what you are like, and this fable has humiliated many kind-hearted men and women. . . . Babies, to be sure, are more single minded than grown-ups, because they haven't so much on their minds. But they aren't so much as judges of character, or they wouldn't have picked some of the parents that they do.

A baby and a puppy playing joyously together make a pleasant sight, but they seem to be about the same age mentally.

Dogs, too, are supposed to know instantly whether you like them, hate them or fear them. . . . I think it's a matter of smell, and there may be something in the theory that human beings, when afraid or angry, exude a definite recognizable odors.

But, after all, there is this to be said: After a man has lived with himself for a considerable number of years, his inner traits have imprinted themselves on his outer appearance so definitely that almost anybody can make a good guess as to his character.

A HARD LIFE

"Allo Bill, I 'aven't seen you for weeks—" Bill's pal stopped suddenly. "But wot's wrong, man? You're looking mighty seedy. Been ill, eh?" he asked.

Bill passed a horny hand across his brow.

"No," Bill sighed. "I ain't been ill. It's work wot's doing for me—work from seven in the morning till six at night, and only one hour off. Think of it, mate."

"Well, well," replied the other. "And 'ow long 'ave you been there?"

"I ain't been there yet," retored Bill. "I begin tomorrer," he added gloomily.

What makes a city great today?
Not buildings towering in the air,
But men who do their business there,
Who ever always stand four-square;
'Tis men like these I say.

What makes a city great today?
It's not the blinding "great white way"
Whose glistening, gleaming, dazzling ray,
May lead our daughters far astray;
'Tis not these I say.

What makes a city great today?
Not men in office just for pay,
But men who see a better way,
And set the pace from day to day;
'Tis men like these I say.

What makes a city great today?
Not steeples pointing to the sky?
But men who see the need and cry,
'Tis men who dare to do or die;
It's men like these I say.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A Scotch clergyman noted for his thrifty habits sent a wire to a parishioner on her wedding day. The message read: "John IV, 18." On looking up the text the girl was horrified at these lines: "For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband."

After they had restored the young woman to consciousness, inquiry was made at the telegraph office, and it was found that the operator had omitted the letter or numeral indicating the first Epistle. John I, IV:18 reads: "There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear."

A BIG LIE

A nameless grandpa, or perhaps it was his ghost, tells of times in Utah 55 years ago when he first went to that state. The Indians, he says, were then pretty bad.

One day while in the mountains, he relates, I saw several Indians who at the same time spied me. At once they started in pursuit. I ran to a gorge and started climbing down into the canyon with the Redskins almost at my heels. They knew the country much better than I did, and while I was forced to stop and choose a trail they were unhindered by any such necessity. Before I had gone very far I came to a ledge which rose about 20 feet straight up in the air. I couldn't climb over it and I couldn't go around it.

"But how did you get away?" asks a curious listener.

I didn't get away. They killed me.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By Francine Markel

A generation ago, leg-crossing was de trop for women, or perhaps I should say—ladies. Of course, it was the length and style of clothes that made such an "unladylike" attitude impossible.

But during the past 10 or 15 years legs have come into their own; they are no longer referred to as "limbs" and it is no longer considered vulgar to show a slim ankle or a shapely calf. Indeed, just a few years ago knees of all sizes and descriptions were disporting themselves for public view.

There has lately been such a revolution in the field of postures that even ladies now cross their legs whenever the spirit moves them.

If you are among those who demand such ultra-modern privileges, be sure that your leg-crossing is done gracefully if it must be done at all!

Do not elevate your foot so high that you show the sole of your shoe. Watch fashion pictures and note that graceful models hold their crossed legs close together with the toes of the uplifted foot pointed toward the ground.

Borah Is Under Fire.
Tagged With Unsound Money.
Regulation Being Sought.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The eastern Republicans have become frightened over a possibility—that the party may become the exponent of "unsound" money, in the 1936 election.

The Republicans always have been on the side of "sound" money hitherto.

But now the Democrats may gain the honor—theoretically.

It all concerns certain happenings in the west that Republicans are trying to shush.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, eminent silverite, has been looked upon with favor by the Townsend pensionites.

The Townsend pension plan is viewed in orthodox money circles as very nearly the ultimate of inflationary schemes. Roosevelt dollar devaluation and public spending would look like a thimbleful beside it.

But here are the Townsendites trying to pin their label on a Republican possibility who has been unorthodox in his money views.

Rumor has it that Republican leaders say they will prevent Borah from being nominated if he traffics with the Townsendites.

But rumor also has it that the Townsendites have western politicians scared stiff, and there is no telling what convention delegates from that region will do.

INFLATION—WHEN?

A great many persons have been gambling in the stock market and in commodity markets on inflation. Stock market prices are at their highest since 1929.

"Is this really inflation?" people are asking.

Economists at the Alexander Hamilton Institute are sure it isn't. Read this:

"After the peak reached in the Civil war inflation, it was 31 years before the basis was laid for the prolonged period of inflation which began in 1896 and culminated in 1919.

"The deflation which occurred after the World war was apparently practically completed in 1932, since values dropped almost to the low reached in deflationary movement after the Civil war. It is apparent, however, that the basis has not yet been laid for a long term inflationary movement.

"The current upswing promises to be only a temporary matter and the probability is that it has now practically spent its force since it has nearly attained the peak reached in the 1879-1881 period of temporary reflation.

"The trend after 1881 suggests that values will gradually work back to the low level of 1932 while the basis is being laid for a prolonged inflationary movement. If history continues to be repeated, this inflationary movement will not start before 1950."

WANTS MORE REGULATION!

A mere two years ago Wall Street was fighting congressional regulation.

Now it says it hasn't enough regulation!

It is trying to obtain a strengthening of the securities and exchange act to enjoin securities racketeers from dealing in securities.

More—Wall Street is complaining that the securities and exchange commission isn't strict enough, that it wastes too much time on reports and red tape! Wall Street says that some sharp practices (especially in wash sales) are occurring.

NOW IT'LL SPEND!

Bankruptcy of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad may prove a boon to New England at large.

When trustees get hold of a road, and interest on excess capitalization ceases, money is spent on repairs and upkeep.

The New Haven had bought rails with government money, but had been unable to lay them, due to lack of funds.

Wall Street of the past is responsible for many of the troubles of New Haven. Steamboat lines, traction lines, interurban lines were acquired at several times their value. They drained the New Haven white. Only interested persons profited (and handsomely) at the expense of thousands of stockholders.

STRICTER NEUTRALITY

Republican progressives do not quite trust the neutrality of the Roosevelt administration. They will succeed in having congress pass a very much stricter neutrality law—mandatory. It probably will be illegal for Americans to travel on ships of countries at war. That would apply to Italy at the present time, but if Great Britain becomes involved, Americans would find themselves greatly restricted in certain parts of the world.

FAMILIAR GREATNESS

He lived beside the mountain but he never guessed its size,
To gaze upon its slendor he would seldom turn his eyes.
Though men, standing at a distance, looked with reverential awe,
'Twas a commonplace familiar that he night and morning saw.

The glory of the sunrise on the summit crowned with snow
Was to him a mere occurrence which he thought all men must know.
That majesty stood near him was to him a hidden truth,
For he'd brothered with that mountain since his early days of youth.

He possessed the curious notion that all greatness must be strange,
So 'twas just another mountain, one like many of the range.
He went on about the business of his days with manner grim
And he never once discovered just how close was fame to him.

Thus it is I'm sure with mortals. We think great men dwell afar
And we never quite discover just how fine our neighbors are.
We take them all for granted, just as members of the throng,
And imagine gifts of greatness must to strangers all belong.

Today's Yesterdays—Nov. 1, 608 A. D.—The first All Saint's Day, when the Pantheon of the ancient Romans was consecrated as the Church of Blessed Virgin Mary and All Martyrs. The day was chosen because the eve preceding was one of the four great festivals of the unconverted nations of the north of Europe, and it was the design of the Church to supplant pagan by Christian observances.

Nov. 1, 1704—Alexander Selkirk, a Scotch-born buccaneer, quarreled with the captain of his ship and was put ashore at his own request on Juan Fernandez Island, in the South Pacific, off Chile. His experiences there suggested to Daniel Defoe, London journalist, a newspaper serial which became the best selling novel of all time: Robinson Crusoe.

Nov. 1, 1765—The Stamp Act went into effect, and there was national day of fasting and mourning. Mobs stoned windows of loyalists and burned the king's official in effigy, and the American revolutionary movement was born.

The Stamp Act had nothing to do with tea. It was a tax on the execution of legal documents, and the tax which brought on the American revolution is imposed by Congress today.

Nov. 1 1784—Trenton, N. J., the capital of the U. S. It almost remained so permanently!

The Continental Congress, meeting there for the first time since the conclusion of the Revolution, passed an ordinance to locate a federal city on either bank of the river and provide suitable buildings.

In the next session, Southern members defeated the measure providing the necessary appropriations and the plan died.

Writing Wrongs—You're in error if you suppose—

That no man born in a foreign country can become President, and that no man not born a U. S. citizen has ever been president.

We're repeating this because of the skepticism aroused among our readers.

The Constitution provides that to be eligible to the presidency, the candidate shall have been born a citizen. A child born of U. S. parents in a foreign country is a U. S. citizen, and is therefore eligible. Under present laws, a child born in a foreign country of one alien parent could be eligible! Actually, the 8th president, Martin Van Buren, was the first president born a U. S. citizen. His predecessors, of course, were born when this country was under the British flag.

And you're wrong if you believe—

That if a criminal is revived after being executed, he cannot afterwards be executed.

We're reminded of this by hearing the wild rumor that Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray were revivified after their execution and are living together now in Florida. You're wrong if you believe that, too.

Correctly Speaking—

"Badly" should not be used for "a great deal" or "very much". Say "I want very much to see you," not "I want badly to see you."

The age of discretion is the one when you lose your simple faith in the word "guarantee."

More Beer Cans Are Being Made

More Breweries Are Adopting Tin Can As Beer Containers

ORDERS INCREASE FOR TIN PLATE

Six months ago beer in tin cans was an experiment, a novelty that some thought might not last. Today beer in tin cans is an actuality and the glass bottle is giving way to the tin can. Every month sees new breweries putting up their product in tin, thus saving storage space, transportation space, deposits and half a dozen other things.

With every new brewery putting their beer in tin cans comes an increase in the tin plate business and the Shenango plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company is getting a lot of orders for plate for such tin cans.

Several months ago there were but two or three breweries using the tin can for their beer. Today there are many standard beers being put out in tin cans. In the office of D. S. Pyle, general manager of the Shenango Works, is a collection of sample cans of the various breweries that are now using cans.

Shenango is working fifteen turns next week, which is near capacity. Much of the plate to be turned out is tin plate for cans which will be used for beer and ale.

States should continue to neglect air defense.

IN ITALY, "meatless Tuesdays and Wednesdays" take you back to our big war days, when America mothers were told not to give sugar to their children because somebody in Armenia needed it.

Italian mothers may find comfort in interesting experiments by the distinguished Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute. Dr. Carrel, experimenting scientifically with 40,000 mice, all inbred, brothers and sisters being mated, and practically all alike, found that a little starving increased the mouse intelligence.

Smaller, more intelligent mice, were born when they were never allowed to have quite enough to eat. But what they did eat had to be the very best of food.

Read Dr. Carrel's admirable new book, "Man, the Unknown," just published by Harpers. It will tell you things about yourself that may surprise you.

MRS. MINA MILLER EDISON, 69, widow of Thomas A. Edison, marries Edward E. Hughes, 73, retired steel manufacturer. Best wishes and congratulations to both.

I Edison could know about it, he would say:

"I am glad that my widow is happy and will not spend the rest of her life with thoughts concentrated on a shadow."

Any man who would forbid his widow to marry again, if she could do so happily, may be classed with the primitive Hindu who insisted that his young widow be burned alive with his corpse when he died. You may thank England for stopping that.

Voltaire, in his "Zadig," presented a plan to stop the funeral burning. The young widow was to spend her evening, before the burning, with the handsomest youth in the village. She never turned up for the burning ceremony.

FOUR IN New York won $147,000 each on lottery tickets when "Commander III" won the Cambridgeshire race. One winner was a negro tailor in Harlem, another a grave digger in the Borough of Queens.

Statistics show that winners of such prizes usually move from humble habitations and abandon humble ways of living.

Later statistics, of which you never hear, would show the majority of them moving back where they started, with millions of new foolish geese wasting money on tickets and hopes.

FRANCE AND England will confer again and earnestly on the possibility of a peace agreement between Italy and Ethiopia.

Haste is necessary, because Ethiopian chiefs show an inclination to gain Italian good will, good roads and other advantages by going over to the Italian side, voluntarily.

It would be embarrassing if Mussolini and Haile Selassie should suddenly tell the league:

"Stop worrying, we have reach d an agreement."

THREATS SENT TO CANDIDATES

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O.—The political campaign here for the municipal election of councilmen and judges is waxing warm according to "threats" that several of the candidates have received.

Mayor Russel Wilson has received unsigned communications from those opposed to him that carried language too obscene to be repeated, his associates said. Mayor Wilson is a candidate for re-election on the Charter ticket.

On the Republican side, Councilman Willis Gradison has been told through the mail that "You'll get what Huey Long got."

L. A. B. CLUB SERVED CALIFORNIA MENU

L. A. B. club members enjoyed the hospitality extended Thursday evening, in the home of Mrs. M. R. Sweet, who entertained at their annual Hallowe'en party. Appropriate decorations were used in the reception rooms and the award of the evening was won by Mrs. Lucy Covert. Games, bingo and 500 held attention, trophies being captured by Mrs. James McCullough, Mrs. Maude Jones and Mrs. William Elligess.

Of particular interest, was the serving of California delicacies, by the hostess, sent her from the West by her son Clair Sweet, which proved a delight to the guests. The lunch was typical of the Californians and the various tasty preparations, were made from the delicious edibles, shipped direct. Mrs. William Eligress assisted.

On Thursday November 14, the club women will meet in regular session with Mrs. Sweet.

Uparatasa Holds Party

Members of the Uparatasa fraternity of the Y. M. C. A. and their lady friends participated last night in a gala Hallowe'en masquerade party in the club house at the Muny golf course.

A hilarious Hallowe'en sketch opened the program and a costume judging contest featured.

Henry Wyman was a traveling salesman for the "sketch" and Kirk Pattison, Robert Wallace, Howard Warnock, William Greer, Ruth Maybray, Isabelle Byron and Nellie Brown took part. A recitation, "Dan Magrew," was given by Robert Wallace. The closing part of the evening was spent in dancing and a lunch was served.

Prize winners for the best costumes worn by the girls were won by Wanda Wynder and Edith Cleveland and for the men, John Hensley and Harry Wyman had the best. Prizes in the games went to Dorothy Alexander and Dorothy Moon.

1934 Jolly Quilters.

Three new members, Mrs. Ethel Bates, Mrs. Fannie Bevan and Mrs. Gladys Dickson, were welcomed by 1934 Jolly Quilters at the meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Clara Hinebaugh on Brooklyn avenue.

The gathering was an all day affair with a tureen dinner at noon. The next meeting will take place November 13 at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Dietrich, Second street.

Some co-eds go back to school to get their M. A. and some to get their MAN.

FAREWELL AFFAIR FOR SHARON GUEST

As a farewell to Mrs. Sarah Davis, of Sharon, who has been spending the past several months in this city at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Abernathy, of Beaver street extension, a coterie of friends was entertained in the Abernathy home Wednesday.

The guests, all past the 50 mark, the youngest being 58, and the oldest 71 years, were served a bountiful menu at the noon hour, the table being pretty with a fall bouquet, to blend with pink and white appointments.

In the afternoon, the women chatted about old times, reviewing many happy occasions to which this event was added.

KING'S DAUGHTERS LUNCHEON MEETING

Luncheon was enjoyed at 12:30 p. m. Thursday by the King's Daughters Bible class in the First M. E. church. Charming hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Frank Fischer, Mrs. A. R. Kingsburg, Mrs. Ira Fulkerson and Mrs. Elliott.

A devotional period followed in which the president, Mrs. J. N. Kerr, presided. A Hallowe'en entertainment, and group singing, were enjoyed pastimes of the later afternoon. There were 30 guests present.

The next meeting will be on November 19.

Chapter Of Youth

Chapter of Youth 48 held the regular meeting Wednesday evening in Veteran's Hall, city building, at which plans were made for a Thanksgiving dance, November 21.

After the business was transacted, the social hour was enlivened with dancing and refreshments were served. About 50 were present, some of the group coming from Monaca.

De La Kard Klub.

Norma Beltrame won the card favor at the meeting of the De La Card Klub Wednesday evening with Dorothy Boughter of East Washington street. Two tables were in play.

Hallowe'en colors and favors featured the luncheon, which was served at midnight by the hostess. The next assembly will be in the home of Ruth Carr, Youngstown road, November 13.

We call it a land of opportunity, but there's a catch in it. A fellow can't get rich without a lot of hard work.

MASQUERADE AFFAIR FOR LUTHER LEAGUE

In the neighborhood of 33 people were present at a masquerade party Thursday evening, in the Sumner avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Chamberlain, the guests including members of St. Paul's Senior Luther league and a few guests. Mrs. C. H. Alford of San Diego, Cal., was an out of town visitor.

After guessing identities of the variously garbed group, everybody had a good time playing games. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Sara Markel. Hallowe'en appointments prevailed in the menu, and throughout the house appropriate decorations were used.

Hershey Meeting

Hersheys will have the November 4 meeting, Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Roy W. Hazen, Sheridan avenue. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Will Atkinson, Mrs. George C. Carpenter, Mrs. Ola Crill, Mrs. Donald Lusk, Mrs. W. S. Wheeler, Miss Grace Woodworth.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. C. C. Green, Mrs. M. A. Brown and Mrs. P. H. Bridenbaugh.

Hallowe'en Party

The home of Miss Ann Cline, Gilmore street, recently was the scene of a delightful Hallowe'en party.

Games were the main diversion of the evening. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Misses Margaret Carney and Sophia Zbegan.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

A tureen dinner and installation of new officers took place Thursday evening when the L. L. O. L. No. 24 met in the Clendenin hall.

At the close of dinner the installation mistress, Mrs. Sarah Treese, of Ellwood City, and her staff of installing officers had charge of the ceremony which placed a new set of No. 24 members into office. Guests were present from Youngstown, O., Ellwood City, and Lodges 200 and 129, New Castle.

Missionary Alliance

There will be a young people's prayer service in the Christian and Missionary Alliance church at 7:30 o'clock this evening. It will be followed at 8:15 by a study period on, "The Book of Acts" in charge of Mrs. J. H. Boon.

A cottage prayer service will be conducted tonight at the home of Tony Naples, rear 715 Mabel street.

Official board meeting in the church Saturday evening at 7:30.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

ITALIAN MOTHER'S PARTY

A masquerade party brought twenty members of the Italian Mother's Club together in the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday night.

Mrs. Mary Martone was in charge of the games. The room was decorated in a colorful fashion for the occasion and the guests, in their unique costumes, were no less colorful. Mrs. Antoinette DeLorenzo, dressed as a hobo was awarded a prize for being the "funniest" in appearance, and Mrs. Christina Altobelti won the prize for being the "nicest." She wore a pretty Japanese costume.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Helen Frabotti and Mrs. Christina Altobelti.

A theatre party is being planned for the near future.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT

Miss Peggy Griffiths will coach the business girls' clubs of the Y. W. C. A. in basketball playing this evening. These clubs are: Goodwill Graduates, Square Circle and Blue Triangle.

SENIOR RESERVE CABINET

Miss Peggy England, president of the senior Girl Reserve club, announces that the cabinet members will have a monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. with supper at 5 o'clock.

BOY SCOUT Activities

PLAN ARMISTICE PROGRAM

Boys of Troop 36 of Shenango township will present the Armistice Day program at the Shenango Parent-Teacher association meeting on Armistice Day night, Scoutmaster Frank Hay announced today.

At a recent meeting the troop viewed motion pictures provided by the state game commission. At the Shenango-Bessemer game the boys did patrol duty.

GUESTS AT WIENER ROAST

Troop V-5 was treated to an appetizing wiener roast this week by Alfred "Sandy" Howard, well-known Scout leader and honorary member of the troop.

The troop met at Washington junior high school and hiked to the end of Mercer street to "Sandy's" farm, where the boys, aided by Daniel Carroll and John Rubeis and Thomas Smathers, built a campfire. The roast was over by 9:30 and the 22 boys and three leaders left knowing they had enjoyed a real time.

Personal Mention

Miss Margaret Preston, of Crawford avenue, has concluded a brief visit in Pittsburgh.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church is visiting in Ravenna, O., today.

Miss Mildred Burelson, of Blaine street, has returned home from a brief visit in Pittsburgh.

J. Pincus, of Philadelphia, spent Thursday as the guest of Frank C. Summers, Sheridan avenue.

Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell, of East North street, spent today in Pulaski with her mother, Mrs. M. I. Buchanan.

Friends in this city where she formerly resided, will regret to learn that Mrs. Harry Sergeant is ill again at her home in Colona, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson formerly of North Mill street, left last night for Florida where they will take up permanent residence.

Mrs. G. M. Buchanan, of 240½ East Washington street, left this morning to spend two weeks with relatives in Washington, D. C.

Anthony Ostrosky, Butler avenue, left this week for Cleveland, where he has accepted a responsible position with the Winton company.

Mrs. A. Cioffi, of South Mercer street, who has been on the sick list for the past few weeks, is able to be up and around a little every day.

J. W. Cappeau and Charles Painter, Pittsburgh, partners in the firm of Kay, Richards & Co., visited the local branch of the organization today.

Mrs. Joe McCann, of Sheridan avenue, who has been seriously ill in the Jameson Memorial hospital, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nessle left New Castle this morning for Florida where they are planning upon taking up residence. They formerly resided on Spruce street.

Miss Kathryn Rocks, of Cleveland, O., formerly of this city, returned home yesterday after several days as the house guest of Mrs. Richard Wimberly, Castle Hills.

Frank L. Orth, principal of Senior high school, is in Harrisburg attending the principal's section meeting of the State Secondary School conference. He will return to New Castle Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Fogle and son, Leslie, of New York City are visiting Mrs. Fogle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Nothdurft of Centennial street. Mr. Fogle is a theatrical director and expects to open a new show within the next few weeks.

Kenneth Parshall of 445 Court street, who is confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital for several weeks, recovering from a serious operation, continues to show steady progress. His many friends will be interested in learning of his improved condition.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP NO. 15

A Hallowe'en party was heartily enjoyed by the Girl Scouts of Troop 15 on Monday night in their usual meeting room, St. Joseph's hall. A Court of Awards was conducted and the second class scouts received their badges. Hostess badges were distributed. Miss Leona Priesel received her life-savers badge.

For entertainment the Parrot patrol have a play called "The Last Princess Gundanlove." Mary Elizabeth Swiekert won the prize for being best dressed. A delicious lunch followed.

Grant Extension To November 12 For Auto Stickers

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania motorists with a "last minute" complex were given a break today. The Department of Revenue extended the automobile inspection deadline until November 12.

"War" against drivers who have failed to have their cars inspected will begin at midnight of Armistice Day, Secretary of Revenue Harry E. Kalodner announced. The deadline was to have been effective today.

Kalodner said many motorists had found it "difficult if not impossible" to have their cars inspected because of the increased number of machines and the consequent added strain upon inspection facilities.

Says East Can Expect To Have More Earthquakes

(International News Service)

HARVARD, Mass., Nov. 1.—The east can expect more earth shocks, such as rocked New England and a large section of eastern United States and Canada but did no damage, L. Don Leet, director of the Harvard University seismograph station, said today.

"Some may be small, some large—we don't know how large," he asserted.

Today's tremor was the largest ever felt in New England and was so violent that seismograph station instruments were put out of commission for fifteen minutes.

The center of the quake was thought by Dr. Leet to have been in the Adirondacks.

There is no connection, as far is known, between the eastern shock and the Helena, Mont., earthquake.

Dates for visitations By Teachers Have Been Set At Teachers College

PROGRAMS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Nov. 1.—The dates of November 2, 9, 16, 23 and April 4, 18 and 25, have been set aside as demonstration days for this school year in the Campus Training School of State Teachers' College, Slippery Rock. The entire school, from the kindergarten through the senior high school, will be in operation on these days.

On account of football games on November 2 and 23, the demonstrations will begin at 9 a. m. and continue to 1 p. m. with no noon intermission. On the other dates classes will meet on the regular schedule from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

These demonstrations are designed for teachers in service. All the teaching will be done by the regular members of the training school staff. Opportunity will be afforded for individual conferences with the teachers at the close of the day's work. Programs of demonstrations will be available at the registration desks in the elementary and high school buildings.

Visiting teachers are urged to register. Registration cards will be forwarded to county and district superintendents so that they may give credit for attendance.

The reason for the increase in the number of Saturday demonstration days over former years is for the better accommodation of visitors. Classrooms were formerly so crowded that there was no opportunity for conferences with the members of the staff.

Aliquippa Will Be B'nai B'rith Host

Western Pennsylvania Council To Meet There; Rabbi To Speak

The B'nai B'rith council of Western Pennsylvania, composed of 18 lodges and which represents a membership of 2500 members, will hold its annual fall convention in Aliquippa, on Sunday, November 3.

Plans of the committee call for a business meeting in the afternoon which will be held in the Moose Temple at 2 o'clock, a bridge for the women in the afternoon which will take place at the Elk's Temple at 2:30 p. m.; and a banquet in the evening which will be held in the Elk's Temple at 6:30 p. m.

The principle speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Philip David Bookstaber, noted spiritual leader and Rabbi of Harrisburg.

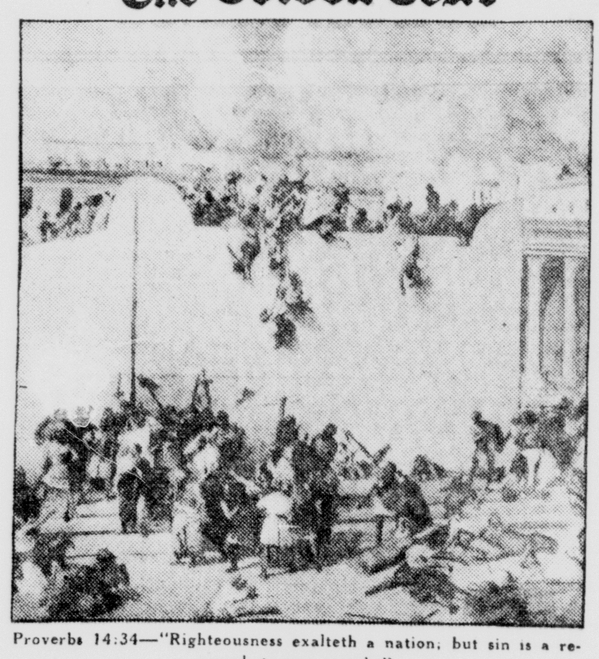
Other speakers will be Calvin Leichtman and Joseph Herbach, president and secretary respectively of the B'nai B'rith District No. 3 and I. M. Jaffe and I. A. Davis, president and vice president respectively of the B'nai B'rith council of Western Pennsylvania.

LYKENS, Pa.—Miss Caroline Miller, 22, of Lykens, has attended Sunday school for 960 consecutive Sundays, a total of 20 years. She is a member of the Lykens Methodist church.

Judah Taken Captive

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



Proverbs 14:34—"Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."

(The international uniform lesson on the above topic for November 3 is II Kings 24:1-25:21, and Jeremiah 39:1-18, the Golden Text being Proverbs 14:34, "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The history of the Hebrew nation from Abraham to today's lesson may be summarized in six words, call, covenant, commandments, conquest, corruption and captivity. The captivity of the ten northern tribes of Israel in 721 B. C. taught no lessons of repentance to the southern kingdom of Judah and God brought the same judgment upon Judah in 586 B. C.

Three Captivities

This captivity was effected in three stages with the captives carried away to Babylon in three sections. The first of these came in the reign of Jehoiakim, wicked son of the good king Josiah. "In his days Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant. . . . And the Lord sent against him bands of the Chaldeans, and bands of the Syrians . . . and sent them against Judah to destroy it, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of his servants the prophets." In this first deportation of captives Daniel the prophet was included (Dan. 1:1).

About ten years later there followed a second captivity during the brief reign of Jehoiachin, the wicked grandson of the good King Josiah. Among these captives was the prophet Ezekiel. "He did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done. At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came into the city, while his servants were besieging it. . . . And he carried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the king's house, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold which Solomon, king of Israel, had made in the temple of the Lord, as the Lord had said. And he carried away all Jerusalem, and all the princes, and all the mighty men of valor, even ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen and the smiths; none remained, save the poorest sort of the people of the land."

Jerusalem Destroyed

The captivity was made complete and the city of Jerusalem was destroyed after a siege of a year and a half in the 11th year of King Zedekiah, the third wicked son to succeed the good King Josiah. "And they slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon." Thus were fulfilled numerous prophecies such as this of Ezekiel 12:13: "My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there." Jeremiah, the prophet, was carried away with this third captivity. But Nebuchadnezzar commanded concerning Jeremiah, "Take him and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto you." This, too, was in accordance with God's promise to Jeremiah, "I will deliver thee in that day, saith the Lord: . . . because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord."

No Special Auto License Numbers For Coming Year

The following is a reproduction of a postcard sent out from the Bureau of Motor Vehicles in response to requests for special numbers:

"Your communication requesting a special automobile License for 1936 has been received.

"For your information, the Governor has stated publicly that next year no automobiles will carry letters or figure combinations of less than four digits; and there will be no Legislative, Consular, Executive, Judicial or National Guard tags.

"Therefore, no special licenses will be reserved for anyone in Pennsylvania next year, including the Governor himself.

W. J. B. WINTERS,
Director of Motor Vehicles
For: Harry E. Kalodner,
Secretary of Revenue".

Handsome Dollar Bill To Be Issued

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The government will issue this month a new dollar bill described by Secretary Morgenthau as "the handsomest ever."

It will be a silver certificate and though the size will be the same as the present currency, there will be changes in design.

For the first time on any American money, there will be printed a picture on both sides of the great seal, which was adopted in 1782 even before the Constitution was drawn up. The seal will be on the back of the money.

On the front will be several changes of design, including the new way of printing signatures. Instead of being printed with the rest of the design, the names of the Secretary of the Treasury and the treasurer will be added later, with steel dies, after the bills are numbered and sealed.

WOMAN RIDES HORSE FOR 1200 MILES

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA— Travel across 1,200 miles of Canadian wilderness, most of it on horseback, in search of botanical specimens, was described on her return here by Mrs. Mary G. Henry, wife of Dr. J. Norman Henry, director of public health.

On one occasion, she said, the trip was enlivened by a wolf pack, led by Huge White Wolf, sweeping within a few hundred yards of the party.

There are some 250,000,000,000 honey bees working in over 4,000,000 hives or colonies in this country and they produce something like 150,000,000 pounds of honey annually.

CHINESE PREMIER IS TARGET OF GUNMAN

Attempt Made To Slay Wang

Heroism Of Fellow Statesman Probably Saved His Life

WANG'S CONDITION REPORTED SERIOUS

(International News Service)

NANKING, Nov. 1.—Heroism of a fellow-statesman, who stepped into the path of a gunman's bullets, today saved the life of Premier Wang Ching-Wei.

Three slugs had already entered the body of the 51-year-old premier when Chang Chi, veteran member of the Government party, stopped the rest of the bullets that would have slain Wang.

At least one other man, Kan Hai-Kuang, chief of the Political Training Bureau of the party, was wounded when the gunman opened fire while the party men were posing for photographers.

Reports quickly spread through the terrified city that Premier Wang was dead, but this was denied officially, and at Central hospital, to which he was removed, it was said that he was "making progress."

His condition is so serious, however, that a call was sent to Shanghai for his personal physician, Dr. Noll.

The assailant was identified as Sun Feng-Min, said to be an ex-soldier who approached the premier under the guise of a Chinese newspaperman.

Hardly had Sun emptied his revolver into the Chinese officials when Premier Wang's bodyguard shot him dead.

Dreading the possible effect of the shooting on the delicate Sino-Japanese situation, residents anxiously watched for bulletins from the hospital. Rumors even spread that Wang was dead, and the news was being concealed to avoid a crisis.

The shooting occurred outside the Kuomintang party building, where a congress had been called to weigh the latest demands made by Japan.

OBJECT TO FANCY TRAIN WHISTLES

(International News Service)

DOVER, O., Nov. 1.—A railroader with musical inclinations was the subject of a complaint to police here. Residents of the northside complained that the musical trainman has the air whistle on the caboose equipped with valves of a type which permit him to get the "slide trombone effect."

The concert is given each midnight and interferes with the sleep of the complaintants, according to police reports.

Sandusky Pastor Pans President

Says "Money Changers" Were Not Driven From Our Temples As Promised

(International News Service)

SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 1.—The Rev. Gates E. M. Young, rector of the Calvary Episcopal church here, was "for" President Roosevelt at the beginning of his administration, but has since changed his mind, the clergyman wrote in a letter to the chief executive in reply to one from the White House.

"As I see it," wrote the Rev. Mr. Young, "your inaugural address was one of the greatest and best ever given by any president. Your outlook then showed vision and courage. Had you only followed this, and pressed your declarations to their logical conclusions; had the 'money changers' really been driven from our temples as they were supposed to have. But no, they were not.

"Your opportunity, I believe, was one of the greatest that has come to any man—but I fear it has been lost.

Still, if people had no pride, what would induce them to read dull high-brow books?

Sabbath School Committee Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association was held at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday evening with the president, Robert M. Strickler, Jr., presiding and the following members present: Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, secretary; Mrs. A. B. Street, children's division superintendent; Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, teacher training superintendent; J. H. Lusk, president Wilmington district; Mrs. J. H. Lusk, H. L. Marvin; president New Castle district; Mrs. Mary Balph, temperance superintendent New Castle district; Mrs. F. R. Weisz and Mrs. Shaffer.

The temperance drive submitted by Miss Margaret Walker, county temperance superintendent, was approved. The leadership training school to be held at the First M. E. church November 12, 14, 19, 21 and 26 was announced. Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will be the instructor for the old testament course and Dr. C. H. Heaton, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be the instructor for the new testament course.

A brief report was given of the state convention at Lewistown.

LOSES FINGER IN MOLDING MACHINE

While cleaning a molding machine in a baking company plant, Adolph Kubinski of 23 North Liberty street, sustained severe injuries to his left hand, Thursday afternoon.

His hand caught in the machine, amputating one of the fingers and slightly injuring the others. He is confined to the New Castle hospital.

CAN'T SPEND RELIEF MONEY IN BEER JOINTS

(International News Service)

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 1.—Persons on relief in Urbana, and their dependants, will not be allowed in the future to spend any money in amusement places, including pool rooms and beer parlors, Safety Director George Callahan announced. Callahan has supplied proprietors of amusement places with typed lists containing the names of 176 heads of families on relief with instructions not to cater to any of them.

Campaigners To Rally Tonight

Character Chest Teams To Make Final Reports; Meeting At 7

Campaign teams of the Character Chest drive will gather in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. at 7:00 o'clock tonight to make the final reports of their solicitation of a fund of $25,000 to finance the operations of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and the Boy Scouts throughout the coming year.

There will be no dinner preceding tonight's rally, Dr. J. J. McIlvaine, general chairman of the campaign, announced. The session will be devoted entirely to reports.

A total of $10,819.25 was reported a week ago tonight when the drive organization voted to continue the campaign through this week. No estimate could be made as to what figure would be reported this evening.

"The workers have been soliciting prospects this week, prospects not seen before," General Chairman McIlvaine said. "Part of the industrial report may be made tonight and we are anticipating a good total."

The Character Chest's three character-building agencies chose to wage a united campaign this year to avoid duplication of efforts which three separate drives would have brought.

OHIO WOMAN CANNER LAYS CLAIM TO TITLE

(International News Service)

POMEROY, O., Nov. 1.—Mrs. T. A. Cleland has entered the competition for a championship of some sort, preferably that of canning housewife leader and she proudly points to 885 cans of food in support of her claim. Mrs. Cleland, a Racine, O., woman, mother of eight children, has stored away in her cellar for use during the coming winter months, the following: 103 cans of peaches; 89 cans of tomatoes; 75 cans of strawberries; 30 cans of cherries; 87 cans of blackberries; 52 cans of sauerkraut; 67 cans of blackberry jam; 5 cans of strawberry jam; 26 cans of peach butter; 50 cans of apple jelly; 36 cans of applesauce; 14 cans of spiced apple; 14 cans of tomato preserves; 6 cans of tomato pickle; 40 cans of applebutter; 60 cans of pears; 70 cans of corned beef; 25 cans of sausage and 36 cans of pork.

October Proves Average Month

Temperature Is Six-Tenths Of Degree Above Normal, Rainfall Is Less

October proved nearly an average month, as far as weather conditions are concerned, U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson revealed today in his report for the month.

The temperature was six-tenths of a degree over the normal for the month, and the rainfall was .36 inches below the normal figure.

The mean maximum temperature was 66.3 degrees, the mean minimum was 39.5 degrees, and the mean 52.9 degrees. The normal temperature for October is 52.3 degrees. The highest temperature was 86 degrees on the 15th, and the lowest was 27 degrees on the 25th. The greatest daily range was 38 degrees on the 15th.

The precipitation for the month was 2.36 inches, the normal for October being 2.72 inches, a deficiency of .36 inches being shown.

Days with .01 inches or more of precipitation were 20; days clear, 14; days partly cloudy, 15; days cloudy, two.

In 1934 the temperature was three-tenths of a degree below normal, but the precipitation was 1.34 inches under the normal mark.

CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Robson, of Farrell, gave the message at the Baptist church last Sunday, and there will be the usual service there next Sunday. Friends and members of this church were pleased to learn that the former minister, Rev. William F. Hammond, has arrived safely in South America. His address is, Rua Borges Lagoa, 172 Villa Clementina, Brazil, South America.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Unity Baptist Missionary society was received at the home of Mrs. Reed McCullough for an all day meeting last Thursday. Twenty women and seven children enjoyed an excellent tureen dinner. Mrs. Esther Eakin led the devotionals and a short program after which they finished the White Cross sewing for the year. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Edna McCracken the Thursday before Thanksgiving, November 21.

MASQUERADE AND SHOWER

There was a masquerade party at the Scott township consolidated school Tuesday evening. The event was really a surprise shower for Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Eakin. They were completely surprised and furnished the music for the entertainment thinking it was for the young people of the Baptist church. There were many different costumes and after guessing "who was who", games, stunts and music gave the hours wings for the rest of the evening. Later delicious refreshments were served. The surprised pair received some beautiful gifts among which were an electric iron and an electric toaster.

SCHOOL PARTY

Miss Veronica Schettig was a gracious hostess Friday evening, when she received in her home the members of the Junior Class and the faculty of the high school in a Hallowe'en masquerade. The reception hall was lighted and decorated as a moonlit cornfield. The guests were ushered into a room, dimly lighted by grinning pumpkin faces and a cheery fire from the fireplace. The uncanny appearance of the guests added to the wierdness of the scene. After the guests unmasked, games were played and small prizes were awarded the winners. At a seasonable hour the guests were seated at a bountifully laden table in the dining room which was decorated for the occasion with owls, black cats and witches.. At this time a "Class Poem" written by a member of the class, was read by Miss Elsie Carter. The rest of the evening was spent in various amusements and the guests went home declaring they had never had a more enjoyable time..

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The cast has been selected and practice has been started for a school play to be given about Thanksgiving time. The title of the play, which is being coached by Miss Pizor, is "Beads On A String."

Last Saturday afternoon the Senior class went to Slippery Rock as guests of the college. After being shown through the biuldings they were visitors at the football game with Waynesburg. Following the game there was a dance and refreshments were served in the Gymnasium. Other members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. John Turner, Harold Burton and Jean McCreary.

Two of the high school boys, Bert Pence and John Bludorn, were seriously injured in an automobile accident Friday evening. Both boys are recovering satisfactorily.

In the Honor Roll released last week, through an oversight, the name of Helen Hammerschmidt was omitted from the list of the lower grade.

4-H CLUB

Wednesday and Thursday, October 23 and 24, Hannah Peebles, Blanche McCleary, Agnes Peebles, Ernest Cameron and Clarence Book exhibited and sold at the Pittsburgh Joint Stock Yards on Herrs Island their stock, raised in 4-H Baby Beef and Lamb clubs under the supervision of their county agents. One calf captured fifth place in the Class of Forty-two baby beeves weighing less than 900 pounds.

Wednesday afternoon the members of the 4-H clubs were permitted to visit and go through the various departments of the Pittsburgh Provision Packing building and see how the meat was prepared for market.

In the evening, the club members and their parents and the county agents were entertained at a banquet in the Chamber of Commerce building at which time the cash awards were presented. Thursday afternoon the baby beeves and lambs were sold at good and satisfactory prices.

CANADIAN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McKissick, a recent bride and groom, returned from a trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, Wednesday evening. The young people of the U. P. church at Plaingrove greeted them with a sernade Friday night.

Former Governor Pinchot Hits Democratic Policies

(International News Service)

MILFORD, Pa., Nov. 1.—Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, an "unknown quantity" in Pennsylvania politics, today came out of retirement with a typical election-eve statement lining up inferentially with Republicans in next Tuesday's elections.

The vehicle on which Pinchot came back into the campaign spotlight was an open letter to Pike county voters castigating the highways, work relief and patronage policies of the Democratic state administration, with an attack on Postmaster General James A. Farley—"the most vicious spoilsman that has polluted Washington in my time"—thrown in.

At no point in his letter did Pinchot openly endorse Republican candidates but the tone of his letter, which was released in Harrisburg for statewide distribution, left little doubt as to its meaning when it closed with the statement:

"The voters ought to keep these facts in mind and be governed accordingly."

"These facts" to which Pinchot referred included the assertion that under the "Tammany practices" of the Earle administration, the semi-permanent Pinchot rural roads are being neglected and are going to pieces. He continued with the charge that distribution of work relief on a non-political basis had been "abandoned so that now it appears as if nobody in Pike county, or anywhere else in Pennsylvania, needs relief unless he is a Democrat and nobody is to work for the public unless enrolled as a Democrat."

Under this heading also, Pinchot bitterly assailed Gov. George H. Earle's wholesale dismissals of state institutional and mothers' assistance fund trustees, asserting:

"Experienced boards of trustees of hospitals all over the state have been dismembered to make places for inexperienced Democrats. Under such Tammany practices, the service of the state is falling rapidly to pieces; the people of Pennsylvania, instead of getting a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent, are now paying their taxes, not to get their work down, but to support the state Democratic machine."

Pinchot reserved a third charge to the subject closest to his heart—the state forestry service, from which he asserted experienced forest rangers are being dismissed to make jobs for inefficient Democrats.

Famous Bibles Will Be Shown

Bunyan's Bible And Other Relics Will Be Exhibited At Westminster College

GENEVA BIBLE ALSO IN GROUP

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 1.—In commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the first English Bible, Westminster College will bring to its campus November 4-10, an unusual collection of historically famous Bible, including a 1599 reprint of the famous Geneva Bible, which antedates the King James version of 1611, and the Bible which belonged to John Bunyan, author of "Pilgrims' Progress," read while in jail because of his Protestant preaching.

Included in the Bible Week display to be held in the Commutors' Room at Westminster College, will also be shown a silver tankard belonging to John Bunyan, which along with the Bunyan Bible, was pawned by Bunyan to buy food for his followers while he was in jail in Bedord for preaching against the king's belief.

The Bunyan Bible and the silver tankard are the property of E. H. Bach, Indianapolis, Ind., collector of Bunyan articles, who displayed the Bible and tankard at the World's Fair in St. Louis, 1904.

The reprint of the Geneva Bible, known as the "breeches Bible," the property of W. B. Gres, Glenshaw, gets its name from the wording in the fifth verse of the second chapter of Genesis. In the King James version, which was published in 1611, the verse states that Adam and Eve "made aprons of fig-leaves," whereas the older Bible, known as the "breeches Bible" reads "they made breeches of fig-leaves."

The week's chapel program will consist of six addresses, five to be held on the mornings of the week and one by President R. F. Galbreath, Sunday, November 10. One guest speaker has been announced, Dr. C. J. Williamson, professor of church history, Pittsburgh-Zenia Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh.

Shenango Church Party Is Success

Masquerade Party Enjoyed By Members And Friends Of Shenango U. P.

Members and friends of the Shenango U. P. church had a masquerade party in the church dining room Wednesday evening. After a period of "guessing who" the crowd was divided into three groups, cats, witches and pumpkins, and various contests were indulged in, to the great amusement of all.

At the close it was found that the "pumpkins" were the winners having scored the most points during the events. Judges were Nathaniel Nesbitt and Mrs. L. B. Reynolds and score-keeper, Rev. McMains.

Lunch in keeping with the season was served by the "witches".

Several instrumental numbers were presented by W. J. Reynolds, Dorothy Reynolds, Otto Smith and Paul Nesbitt.

News Briefs From City Hall

Harvey Bush has reported to police the theft of some fixtures at a property at 1209 Highland avenue.

Automobiles of C. R. Allen, Quest street and George C. Emerson, Sixth street, were in a collision in Croton avenue, Thursday afternoon.

Police are glad Hallowe'en is over. For weeks they have been dispersing boys at night in an effort to prevent damage to property. Last night they were kept cruising to all sections of the city in response to complaints of boys activities.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne and John F. Haven, chief of police, forgot the dignity of their positions today and at 5 a. m. were at the police station, dolled in "A-hunting we will go" clothes. The earthquake woke up the mayor at 1:08 a. m. he reported. He declared his bed wigwagged from the tremor.

Rev. Ellis Returns From Philadelphia

Tonight at 7:45 o'clock Rev. Mary Hubbard Ellis will be back at the Carnegie auditorium where meetings are being conducted under the auspices of a layman's committee.

The evangelist was called to Philadelphia on Tuesday to answer in a court case involving her campaign against obscene literature and objects in that city some time ago. This evening she will relate her experiences there.

Prayer meeting will be at 7 o'clock.

THINKS AMERICANS LIVE FAST LIVES

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA— Religious retreats to take time out "to live" were urged here by Dean Edward Lowery Henderson of St. Albans Abbey church, England.

"Men today are too rushed, too overdriven and too busy to live," the clerygman declared. "They can only spare time to exist from hand to mouth. Interests which could belong only to the few are now open to almost all. That is something to be thankful for, but it must be realized how exhausting it is in the demands made on the emotions."

WHY HE FOLLOWED HIS LANDLADY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH —Julius Grape, a conscientious gentleman, was indignant when morals court magistrate Anthony Lucas sentenced him to 10 days in jail.

"I ought to get life" Grape declared.

"I can give you life," the magistrate explained.

After a prolonged conference they settled on 10 days. Grape was accused of following his landlady everywhere she went. When asked why, Grape said, " I want to look out for her."

Arrest Girls For Wearing Movie Styles

Chinese Officials War On U. S. Influence

(International News Service)

PEIPING.—From Canton to Peiping male and female Mrs. Grundys are hot on the trail of modern Chinese girls and their attempts to follow American styles.

In Canton the police have been instructed to examine legs and arms to see that bare skin does not peep forth. In Peiping a renewed campaign has been started against the so-called "queer dress" of women, same being western attire simulating the costumes of Hollywood players.

A party of eight modern misses was about to enter a popular theater in Peiping showing Hollywood films when a "purity cop" spotted them and their gleaming bare legs peeking forth under gowns slit to the knee.

The girls were bright as well as beautiful and proposed a compromise with the copper. He accompanied them to a nearby shop where they purchased eight pairs of silk hose. He turned his back politely as the beauties slipped them over the offending limbs and smiled approval at the result.

Poor little Jade Lotus, comely sing-song girl of Peiping, was less fortunate in the policeman who picked on her. She left her home to answer a phone call from an admirer on a neighbor's instrument when the cop spied a goodly length of bare leg. She wound up before a magistrate to receive a lecture and a fine.

Canton snoopers are going even further than their brothers in the North. They were moved to fresh action when it was suggested that native belles had mistaken the "New Life Movement" for one of Nude Life. Now tailors must fashion no more ultra-modern dresses on penalty of having their wares burned.

However, the campaign is an uphill job, and if the police were to take in every offender, Canton jails would be bursting. One deceit of beauties is to comply with edicts calling for ankle-length dresses by making them of transparent materials.

In Shanghai the Chinese Women's Association directed their barbs against the movie star, Miss Hsu Lai, who was about to be crowned the "Standard Beauty of the Orient." They prevented the coronation on the ground that the apparel in the movies in indecent bathing scenes and roles insulting to Chinese womanhood, same being performed in the conventional western beach attire of today.

'Gold Bond' Suits Filed

Two Foreign Banking Concerns File Suits Against Bethlehem Steel

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—The long-threatened "gold bond" suit against the Bethlehem Steel company today had been filed in federal court here by two foreign banking corporations.

The suits involve payment of interest coupons by the steel company on bonds, under the terms of which the company agreed to pay semi-annual interest of $25 in gold in New York on each $1000 bond, or, at the option of the holder, five pounds, two shillings and 10 pence in London or 62.25 guilders in Amsterdam.

More Advantageous.

Since prohibition of gold payments in the United States and devaluation of the dollar, the terms of the bond made it more advantageous for the holder to collect under the European option. The Bethlehem company refused to pay in guilders, the suits charge, at Amsterdam last November 1. At that time 62.25 guilders were equivalent to $42.12, an excess of $17.12 on each bond. The plaintiffs hold a total of 538 coupons.

In a similar suit, the U. S. district court in San Diego recently ruled a bondholder could elect to be paid in foreign currency if the bond gave him that option.

POLICE OFFICER KILLS BANDIT

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 1—Roy Mc Whorter, 38, a refinery worker, was shot and killed this morning by Motorcycle Officer William Allison, shortly after Harry Wolters, Sternberg Dredging Company paymaster, was slugged and robbed of a $24,000 payroll.

Following the holdup, a masked bandit ran and jumped on a truck occupied by a second man. Allison who was passing by in that vicinity was directed to the scene. He said he approached a truck and that two men in it drew pistols.

McWhorter was killed. A man identified as A. M. Cargill, 24, employe of the dredging company surrendered. He was charged with robbery with firearms. The money was found under the dead man.

Kiss Bandits Not Yet Found

No Reports Of Further Depredations In Erie Last Night

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 1.—Vigilantes and police today pressed an intensive search for Erie's two "kiss bandits" who ceased activity last night after abducting a young woman and attacking another, an expectant mother, in one of their boldest assaults.

Two over-anxious vigilantes were taken into custody last night on complaint of Theodore Wagner who asserted they fired a 12 gauge shell through the rear of his car when he refused to obey their command to halt. The vigilantes, Charles Hess, 20, and Francis Martin, 26, were to be arraigned today on a charge of shooting firearms in the city.

Reports indicated the two sex maniacs who have been terrorizing women here for the past month remained inactive last night when one of the heaviest concentration of city, state and county police and scores of private citizens guarded the highways.

Hunt Woman As Slayer Of Another Kansas City Woman

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1—Pretty, 30 year old Mrs. Florence Frisch was found dead in her apartment here today, apparently the victim of a fiendish assault of another woman.

Her body was discovered by her husband, Lester Frisch.

Police said that her body was cut and bruised. She had been dead about 12 hours, they said.

Police held the theory that her attacker had been a woman because when a desk clerk in the apartment building made a 6 a. m. call this morning to awaken Mrs. Frisch, a woman answered the telephone.

NOTRE DAME TEAM HELD UP BY WRECK

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 1.—The Notre Dame party of 60 officials and players headed by Coach Elmer Layden arrived here several hours late today because of a freight train derailment in western Ohio. Their train was held at Bradford, O., more than an hour while the tracks were cleared.

NEW DEAL EYES KENTUCKY RACE

Judge King Swope — Lieut. Gov. A. B. Chandler

The administration in Washington keenly eyes the coming gubernatorial race in Kentucky as a forecast of what the New Deal will mean in national politics in 1936. Judge King Swope, left, is the Republican candidate and Lieut. Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler, right, the Democratic nominee. Chandler defeated Gov. Ruby Laffoon's anti-New Deal candidate, Thomas S. Rhea, in the runoff primary. The election will occur on Nov. 5.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP THREE

Troop three of the Girl Scouts of the First Christian church held a Hallowe'en party Thursday, Oct. 31, instead of their regular session. Thirty Scouts were present and six visitors, including Mrs. Covert and Mrs. Houck, two of the troop's committee members.

After an unusual entrance to the church basement, where activities took place, a contest in guessing the identity of each was conducted.

The program of entertainment was in charge of Helen Houck, consisting of various games and contests. Prizes were awarded to Gerry Covert, Connie Flavion, Maxine Mercer and Patty Allen. Patrol No. 1 was awarded the prize for making the best ostrich from vegetables.

Lunch was served. The meeting closed with the friendship circle and a talk on Juliet Low's birthday, followed by singing "Now Run Along Home".

Scribe, Roberta Allen.

No wonder alien Reds despise this country. You can't help despising anybody dumb enough to feed an enemy.

Fewer Accidents Mark Opening Of Hunting Season

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Pennsylvania's annual small game hunting season opened today with apparently fewer than usual early reports of hunters who shot first and looked afterward, mixed luck in bagging rabbits, squirrels and birds and unfavorable weather.

The first fatality reported was William Bachman, Summit Hill, who was fatally injured near Egypt in Lehigh county. Several other reports of hunters injured came from scattered sections of the state.

Those who returned early to the cities told of varied luck. Some of them had heavy pouches while other reported sighting only a small amount of game. Uninviting weather, according to estimates, reduced the number of first day hunters although the army which shelved everyday duties for the open field and the forest numbered thousands.

Hunter Is Killed In Lehigh County

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—William Bachman of Summit Hill was shot to death today in the first small game hunting tragedy of the 1935 season in Pennsylvania.

Bachman died in a hospital here from wounds received while he was gunning near Egypt, Lehigh county. Details of the accident were not immediately obtained.

FATAL FRIGHT

(International News Service)

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 1—A heart attack resulting from fright when an earthquake rocked this city this morning caused the death of Mrs. Catherine A. Cook, 66. She died 15 minutes after the earth tremor ceased.

Steamer Sinks In Lake Huron

Crew Escapes When Ship Is Rammed During Fog In "Ship Graveyard"

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Nov. 1.—Crippled after a collision with the Norwegian freighter Viator, the freighter S. S. Ormidale crawled toward Detroit today with details of the crash in a fog which sent the Viator into Lake Huron's "ship graveyard"—Thunder Bay.

Norman Peterson, chief engineer of the Viator, sustained skull and chest injuries when the bow of the Ormidale crashed through the Norwegian vessel's plates, but no lives were lost.

All of the sunken Viator's crew were taken aboard the Ormidale, skippered by Capt. J. L. Larsen and carrying 2,500 tons of pig iron from Duluth to Detroit.

NATIONAL STEEL SHOWS EARNINGS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Third quarter net earnings of the National Steel Corporation totaled $2,287,763.49, equal to $1.06 per share after depreciation, interest and taxes, it was announced by the company today.

The earnings compared with $347,199.30, equal to 16 cents per share, for the third quarter of 1934. For the nine-month period ending Sept. 30, 1935, the company reported net earnings of $8,603,758.69, equal to $3.99 per share, compared with $4,582,896.44, or $2.12 a share for the corresponding 1934 period.

Still, a dole for those who can't earn a living for themselves is cheaper than sending them to Congress.

The chief difference is that the old-time leisure class was supported by tenants instead of taxpayers.

VOTE REPUBLICAN

All government is important but to the average citizen the most important government is that with which he comes in contact daily. The city government is vitally important for the reason that the city officials are those who decide the tax rate, expend our money, keep the city policed and protected against fire, operate the schools and perform the many duties necessary.

The Republican candidates for city office are men of character and ability. They deserve the support of the voters because they are qualified to perform the duties.

For Mayor. Charles E. McGrath. A business man who knows the city and its problems.

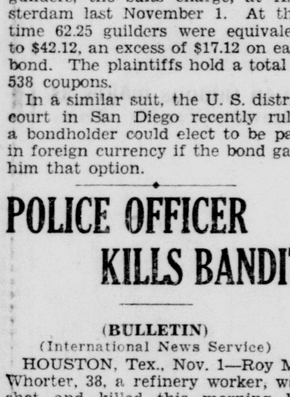
For City Council. James Leon Fink and D. O. Davies. Both are capable. Mr. Fink has been an accountant for twenty-five years and is unusually well qualified to handle the financial department of the city. Mr. Davies has served you well as a councilman in past years. He deserves to be re-elected.

For City Treasurer. C. C. "Rube" McKibben. A young man of proven ability in the line of work he seeks to do for the city. Has had years of experience in accounting work.

For School Board. Dr. W. D. Cleland, Dr. W. Fulton Jackson and Clyde M. Whittaker. Dr. Cleland is a physician and surgeon, Dr. Jackson is a dentist and Mr. Whittaker is a business executive. They will make admirable directors.

ROY W. HAZEN,
Chairman Republican County Committee

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)



For four years I have been Director of Accounts and Finance of the City. This position is an executive one. A bookkeeper or auditor can tell when a business is losing money, but it takes an executive to stop the loss.

The candidates now running for Council are not running for the Directorate of any particular Department. After the election the new Council will designate which of the successful candidates shall be Director of Accounts and Finance.

One, whose only qualification is that he is an auditor, would be helpless if Council should put him at the head of the Street Department, but an executive would be at home in any Department.

If you have any doubt about the executive ability which I have shown in handling my Department, you should investigate and you will find that I have managed the finances of the City in a way that has saved many dollars to the taxpayers and has preserved the credit of the City.

Ask your Banker.

I solicit your vote and influence.

Red Cross Is Shaping Plans For Roll Call

District Chairmen For Home Canvass Are Being Selected This Week

CAMPAIGN OPENS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Chairman Paul Dingledy of the Red Cross Roll Call for the city district, announced today that plans are being completed for the enrollment of residents of the city and that the campaign for memberships will be started on Armistice Day, along with the other cities of the United States.

Mrs. David H. Kay is chairman of the home canvass, and will be assisted in the North Hill section by Mrs. Kenneth McClaren, who has been named chairman of that district. Other district chairmen for the different sections of the city will be named this week and will begin shaping their plans for the houes-to-house visitation, such as took place during the war period, when the Roll Call was conducted in this manner.

It has been a number of years since the Red Cross has conducted a Roll Call in the city, due to the fact that they had been affiliated with the Community Chest.

Membership in the Red Cross is secured by the subscription of one dollar. For those who are able to contribute more, subscriptions may be made in multiples of $5.

Chairman Alex McCready, who will have charge of the Roll Call in the section outside the city, is now completing his arrangements for the drive in the rural district, where a Roll Call has always been conducted.

Colorful Gloves Dictated For Men

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1—The smartly turned out young fellow of this fall and winter will give bright colors a great big hand—figuratively and literally.

Judging from early showings of men's handwear in the Merchants Mart the cotton-string gloves which have been gradually encroaching onto the higher-style scene from their sportswear beginnings will be more acceptable than ever this winter for business and semi-formal wear. The colors will be very light and very bright.

Leather gloves, on the other hand—rather, on other hands—will be comparatively somber, darker hues of gray, brown and black predominating, with mochas, pigskins and capeskins most popular. In the latter two leathers there is a decided swing to non-buttoning types, though in the dressier mochas buttons will be "good."

Former Local Woman Injured

Mrs. Edith Patterson Bowman Fights Death In McKeesport Hospital

Friends of Mrs. Edith Patterson Bowman of Latrobe, Pa., daughter of the late Dr. James Albert Patterson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will regret to learn that she is in the McKeesport hospital, terribly injured as a result of an accident on the Westinghouse bridge on the Lincoln highway at East Pittsburgh, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Patterson was injured when a machine driven by R. H. Lindsey of Forest Hills, crashed into the car driven by her husband, Lloyd Bowman. Her skull was fractured and she sustained other injuries. Mr. Bowman and the two children, Virginia and Kenneth, escaped with but minor injuries.

Lindsey, driver of the other car, fled the scene of the accident but later returned and gave himself up to North Braddock police. He is being held on his own recognizance pending the outcome of Mrs. Bowman's injuries.

Word of the accident was received by Mrs. H. A. Rugh of North Jefferson street, who is a friend of the Patterson family.

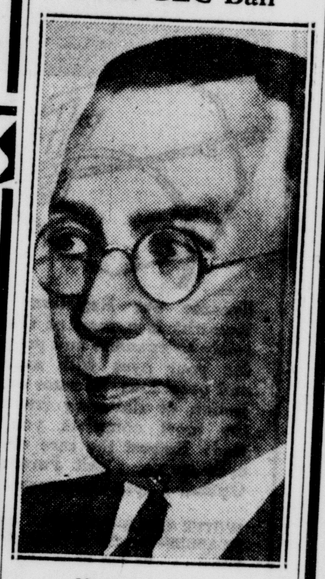
Two Young Women Commit Suicide

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Overwhelmed by their own personal tragedies, two young women today had chosen suicide as the way out of their difficulties.

Helen Sederovich, 18, a miner's daughter, sent a bullet through her heart outside her sweetheart's window. An unidentified woman, about 35, leaped from the Smithfield street bridge into the Monongahela river after spending most of the night nervously pacing up and down a railroad station.

Faces SEC Ban



Michael J. Meehan

Wall Street is speculating on outcome of Securities and Exchange Commission's inquiry into activities of Michael J. Meehan, head of M. J. Meehan & Co., charged with manipulation of stock of Bellanca Aircraft Corp. Meehan must face commission Nov. 12 and may be barred from trading on three exchanges. He denies charge.

CLAYTON, Mo., Nov. 1—Cletus Stone, 25 year old desperado who with Basil "the Owl" Banghart, notorious Chicago kidnapers, and two other convicts escaped from the Illinois state prison at Chester, Oct. 12 was captured in St. Louis county last night, county authorities announced today.

Says Earthquakes Are Not Over Yet

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The earthquakes in the east "are not over yet," the Rev. Frederick Sohon, director of Georgetown university seismological laboratories, declared today.

Additional shocks will probably be felt during the day in western New York, he said.

The priest said the seismograph showed that there were three tremors in the District of Columbia area during a period of one hour and 35 minutes. The first was recorded at 1:05 a. m.; the second five minutes later, and the final one at 2:40 a. m.

SAYS TEACHERS NEED PERSONALITY

(International News Service)

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 1.—Three qualifications will be required in the employment of teachers in Mansfield schools in the future, and not one of them will be beauty, Supt. W. L. Miller pointed out today.

Miller declares instructors should possess personality, poise and patience. He substitutes "personality" for the "beauty" which his predecessor, W. W. Ankenbrand declared was vital to teachers when he took over the superintendent's post at Rockford, Ill., recently.

A BIT HAYWIRE

A young aviation officer stationed somewhere in Egypt was flying near the Great Pyramid, carrying out exercises in navigation and discovering his geographical position with a sextant.

After a series of involved calculations, he turned suddenly to his pilot and said, "Take your hat off!"

"Why?" asked the pilot.

"Because, according to my calculations, we are now inside St. Paul's Cathedral."

Schley Street Is Approved

Federal Stamp Of Approval Is Placed On New Castle Project

OTHER PROJECTS ARE ACTED ON

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1—The Works Progress Administration announced today that the Comptroller General had signed a warrant placing the final Federal stamp of approval on the improvement of Schley street in New Castle as a WPA project, calling for a Federal contribution of $1,100.

Whether the Schley street project will actually be undertaken will now be determined by Pennsylvania WPA Administrator Edward N. Jones. Other WPA projects receiving final Federal approval from the Comptroller General announced today included the following:

Construction of a county line road between Green Township, Mercer county, and Shenango Township, Crawford county; Federal funds $18,432.

Improve roads in Clinton Township, Mercer county; Federal fund, $11,450.

Construct road in East Lackawannock Township in Mercer county from Wilmington Township line north to the Mercer-New Wilmington road; Federal funds, $16,078.

FORGOTTEN MAN GETS NEW TABLET

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Forgotten nearly 100 years ago the grave of Francis Hopkinson, poet, lawyer and signer of the Declaration of Independence was given a new memorial tablet in Christ Church cemetery here. Replacing the original headstone stolen more than a century ago, the monument was unveiled by the Revolutionary leader's youngest descendant, seven year old John Hopkinson.

TEACHERS FORM NEW LEGION POST

(International News Service)

Palmer Trial May Be Delayed

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Nov. 1.—There is a possibility that the murder action charging Le Roy Palmer, 28, Grove City, with the killing of Howard Sidley, 26, at his Pine township filling station March 16 last may be continued to the first term of 1936.

The retirement of Judge J. A. McLaughry and District Attorney J. W. Nelson from office January 1, makes possible this continuance. Definite decision has not been taken on the continuance but is being discussed due to the fact that if a new trial is asked an embarrassment will arise from the fact that the trial judge must be the sentencing jurist.

HUNTING PARTY GOES TO FOREST COUNTY

Included in a party of hunters that left New Castle this morning to spend several days in Forest county, were Anthony Aelio, Angelo Feally, Nick Frasso, of New Castle, Lugi Ferrante, of Wampum, and Dr. Frank Ferrante and Dr. Maley of Coraopolis. They expect to be gone until Sunday night.

Says Edenburg Viaduct Will Be Built Soon

District Engineer Sprague, Of Highway Department, Gives Statement

ROAD PLANNERS MEET THURSDAY

While actual funds for the Edenburg viaduct have not been allocated, construction of this important conecting link on route 224 is only a matter of a few more weeks, District Engineer N. F. Sprague of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department told a group of road boosters from eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania at a dinner meeting held in Youngstown last evening.

The meeting, which took place in the Youngstown club at 6:30 last evening, under the auspices of the New Castle and Youngstown Chambers of Commerce, was held to bring about the formation of a regional planning committee to unify plans for the construction of interstate highways which connect the two states.

Represent City

Those in attendance from New Castle were L. G. Genkinger, president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce; Ralph Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club; B. N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor Club, and Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, who constitute the executive committee of this association representing the New Castle district.

This meeting was the organization, or first annual meeting, of this association, the association being named The Eastern Ohio-Western Pennsylvania Planning Committee, and while the primary purpose of this association is to work with the two state highway departments to develop a more comprehensive plan and improve highways connecting the principal cities of the two states and the principal cities and communities in each of the several states, this committee will also work on other problems common to the best interests of the communities bordering on the dividing line of the two states.

Outstanding business leaders were present from Sharon, Farrell, Sharpsville, Beaver Falls, Rochester, Monaca and New Castle, Pa., and from Youngstown, Warren, Niles, East Liverpool and Alliance, O.

Submits Plan

Each community represented submitted plans for improvement of certain highways in their immediate vicinity, all of which directly related to the primary highways connecting these communities.

Ralph Bolsinger, as spokesman for New Castle, presented the plan for the construction of the Edenburg bridge and improvement on route 224 to the committee, as well as the improvement of what is known as the Sky Hill highway leading off 224 west of Parkstown corners, thence through Lowellville and Struthers and to Youngstown. These projects were given unanimous endorsement at this meeting.

The state highway departments for both states were represented by N. F. Sprague, district engineer of the Pittsburgh district, and Mr. Griffith, district engineer of Franklin, Pa., representing Hon. Warren Van Dyke, secretary of the State Highway Department of Pennsylvania, and William Moyer, chief planning and construction engineer of the State Highway Department of Ohio, representing John Jaster, secretary of highways of the state of Ohio.

Plan More Meetings

It was decided to hold an annual meeting and a semi-annual meeting on specific dates in the future, with district meetings being held at the call of the chairman. The next meeting of the organization will be held on the second Thursday of April in New Castle, and the annual meeting on the second Thursday of November, in all probability in Youngstown. The invitation to hold the semi-annual meeting in New Castle was extended by President L. G. Genkinger of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce and was unanimously accepted.

The officers elected to serve for the ensuing year are: George Mahaney, former mayor of Sharpsville, Pa., chairman; Mr. Darr of Warren, O., vice chairman, and H. R. Packard, secretary of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, as secretary.

This was a very enthusiastic meeting and the state highway departments of the two states promised their wholehearted co-operation and support, and it is believed excellent results from the collective efforts of these communities will be secured.

Elissa, Young Doug Engaged?

ELISSA LANDI DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR.

Gossip centers of Hollywood are buzzing with news of an overseas romance between Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Elissa Landi, who are making a picture together in London. The new interest, filmland hears, has completely killed any chance of reconciliation between the former husband of Joan Crawford and Gertrude Lawrence, English stage star, to whom young Fairbanks was reported engaged. London film folk say young Fairbanks is constantly in Elissa's company away from the studio.

SCOUT TROOPS IN GAY HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT CHURCH

A combined meeting of Boy Scout Troops V-18 and V-37, sponsored by the Highland United Presbyterian church Men's Bible class and the local Kiwanis club, respectively, was held in the Highland caves in the form of a Hallowe'en party this week. Fifty boys and their leaders were present. Troop Committeemen Martin, Sproull, Merrilees, Schmid and Fehl, of Troop V-18, and Dr. J. L. Popp and Hans N. Drio, of V-37, were present.

The decorating committee composed of Assistant Scoutmaster Cy Schaller, and Scouts Green and Withers, performed their committee duties 100 per cent. Troop Committeemen Martin and Meerrilees assisted this committee.

Assistant Scoutmaster George Winter of Troop V-18, with his program committee consisting of Scouts Taylor, Sloan, Rucker and Mort, of Troop V-37, and Scouts Gilmore, Gardner, Schaller and Clarke of Troop V-18, kept the party lively with the many Hallowe'en stunts and games.

Scout Commissioner Ralph F. Davis, as "Madame Futuristic," the fortune teller, kept the boys guessing all evening as to his identity.

Scout Francis Hannon was voted as having the best costume. Scout Harold Miles was voted as having the costume which was the most difficult to recognize his identity.

Refreshments were served after which the Hallowe'en party ended with all present having had a very enjoyable evening and one which will not be forgotten soon.

Young Man Suffers Serious Wounds As Result Of Hunting

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 1.—John Dwojewski, 19, of Wilkes-Barre township, today became the first reported casualty of the 1935 small game hunting season.

Fifty pellets were extracted from his body after he was shot and seriously injured by a hunter on Ashley mountain. He was taken to Mercy hospital here after the accident.

Plan Services At Cemetery Sunday

Parishoners of St. Joseph's church and their friends will attend the annual memorial services at St. Joseph's cemetery, New Wilmington road, on Sunday afternoon, November 3, at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. Joseph A. Dorr, pastor of St. Joseph's, announced today.

Here as a special speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Edmund J. Wiethorn, Butler. Other priests will also participate.

And Still They Come
More Mis-statements Corrected

Yesterday's advertisement of the "Electric Consumers League" said this:

"A city owned distribution system will save you and the city $400,000 every year."

The above statement made by the "Electric Consumers League" is UNTRUE.

The FACTS are as follows:

Estimated annual cost to the city for purchase and distribution of electricity	$855,600
Annual Interest and Retirement Cost	187,443
Total Annual Cost under City Purchase and Operation	$1,043,043
EXCESS ANNUAL COST which would result from a city owned system	$ 244,981

(Detailed figures with AUTHORITIES quoted will be furnished on request)

The advertisement of "The Electric Consumers League" said this:

"It would save the small home user from $12.00 to $20.00 a year, the average business man about $85.00 a year, and the average industrial user about $2,400 a year."

The above statement made by the "Electric Consumers League" is UNTRUE.

THE FACTS: A city owned distribution system would INCREASE the cost of electricity to every citizen of New Castle by 30.7 per cent or the taxes of taxpayers by 42 per cent.

(Detailed figures with AUTHORITIES quoted will be furnished on request)

The advertisement of the "Electric Consumers League" stated that our present cost of electricity is from 68 to 104 per cent higher than would be the case under a city owned system. This statement is UNTRUE.

THE FACTS: No municipal plant in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania charges lower electric rates than the present rates in New Castle. And except as they are subsidized by TAXATION, no municipal plant in the United States has lower rates than the present rates in New Castle. (See Federal Power Commission Report).

The advertisement of the "Electric Consumers League" stated the costs of electricity as follows for the cities named. The figures in the column headed "THE FACTS" are taken from the reports of the Federal Power Commission for the states of Illinois, New York, and Ohio, dated Jan. 1, 1935.

		Electric Consumers League Statement	The Facts
Springfield, Ill.	100 K. W. H.	$2.75	$3.02
	150 K. W. H.	3.50	3.77
Jamestown, N. Y.	100 K. W. H.	2.75	3.25
	150 K. W. H.	3.50	4.38
Cleveland, O.	100 K. W. H.	2.75	3.05
	150 K. W. H.	3.50	4.50

To the best of our knowledge and belief the proposed bond issue would increase New Castle electric rates by 30.7 per cent or our TAXES by 42 per cent.

NO FACTS Have Been Presented by the "Electric Consumers League" to Refute This Estimate

Scalds Fatal To Little Girl

Peggy Louise Boughter, 18 Months, Dies In New Castle Hospital

Peggy Louise Boughter, aged 18 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Boughter of 601 Sampson street, died this morning at one o'clock in the New Castle hospital of burns she sustained Tuesday evening about seven o'clock when she fell into a bucket of water.

The little girl was born in New Castle on December 15, 1933. She was a member of the cradle roll department of the local Nazarene church.

In addition to her parents, William and Jessie M. Boughter, Peggy leaves one brother, Donald, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boughter; Mabel and Harry Haggerty, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boughter, 114 Diamond Way, on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. F. C. Lehman, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, in charge.

Guffey Coal Bill Tax Is Effective

Fight To Gain Early Decision In Supreme Court On Measure Is Pressed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The 15 percent tax designed to compel obedience to the Guffey Coal Control Law became effective today as a fight to gain an early decision of the supreme court on its constitutionality was carried on.

All bituminous coal operators who sign and comply with the "Little NRA" set up under the law will gain a 90 percent rebate of the tonnage tax.

As the tax became effective counsel for James W. Carter, president of the Carter Coal Company, was fighting in the District of Columbia supreme court for an injunction to precent collection of the tax or compliance.

Carter put up a temporary bond to escape enforced collection of the tax, which the government will begin to take into its coffers in two months.

Chief Justice Hughes having referred Carter's application for a stay of the bond order and a restraining order to the full court, action by that tribunal appeared unlikely before November 11.

But District Supreme Court Justice Jesse Adkins continued to hear the Carter case on its merits, and there was a possibility of a decision before the high court acts.

Counsel for the coal company and the government appeared desirious of an early supreme court test. Until the high tribunal decides the fate of the law, confusion may obtain.

Democrats Will Rally Saturday

Meeting To Be Conducted In Cathedral Auditorium In Evening

Democrats from every part of the county are expected in the Cathedral Saturday night when a rally winding up the present campaign will be held. County Chairman William R. Hanna today announced a lenghty list of speakers for the rally.

Among the speakers will be Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, Secretary of Forests and Waters T. C. Buchanan, President of the State Federation of Labor John A. Phillips, Assemblyman Homer S. Brown, a colored orator of wide reputation, Congressman Charles R. Eckert, Attorney John S. Powers, Democratic candidate for judge; Carl W. Haufler, Democratic candidate for mayor; Mrs. Harriet Hamilton Sweezy, chairman of the Woman's Division of the Democratic party; Attorney H. H. Frank, Mrs. Bernice Shannon, vice chairman of the Democratic party; Attorney Clarence A. Patterson. Mrs. Hanna will preside.

The rally will open at eight o'clock and is open to the voters.

WILL PROTEST SUNDAY MOVIES

tian Temperance union, the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, civic organizations, representatives of labor, professional and business men.

Dr. John J. McIlvaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is the general chairman of the meeting and the meeting will open with the singing of "America." Dr. J. A. Galbraith, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, will offer the invocation following which the chairman of the meeting, Judge James A. Chambers will be introduced.

A solo by Mrs. Thelma Steuart will be presented and an address by the Rev. Fr. Willian F. Galvin, of St. Mary's church, will follow it. His subject will be "The Moral Obligation of Sunday." and then shoved us off the running boards of the cars."

The little community of about 1,000 residents was thrown into great excitement by the holdup. State police sped here from Erie and began an investigation. All highways in Crawford and Erie counties were guarded.

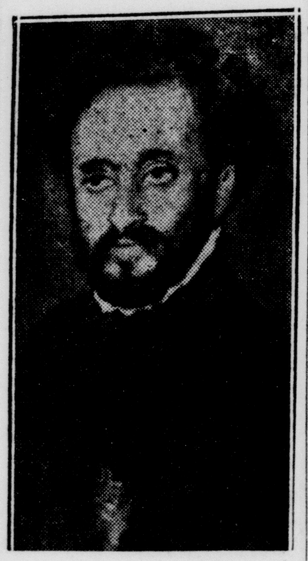
Heyl appeared calm and collected after his experience and gave police a good description of the bandits. All of whom were about 28 years of age, he said.

Plates Stolen

Police said the license plates on the bandit automobile were issued to Maude S. Williams, of Corliss, Allegheny county. She said the plates on her car were stolen from her home several months ago. She reported the theft to Mt. Washington police.

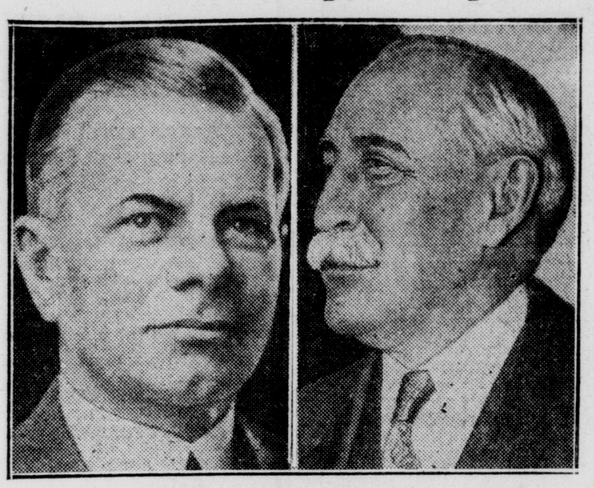
The gunman dressed as hunter stood on the bank steps and waved a gun at a half dozen pedestrians as they passed by the bank while the holdup was in progress.

Selassie In Oils



Portrait from life of Haile Selassie painted by Henry Major, famed Hungarian-American artist, is now showing New York the emperor in his true colors. The Ethiopian ruler posed for Major on a Paris visit.

U. S. Solons "Spy" Suspects



While Vice President Garner was being received by the Japanese emperor in Tokio, two other members of the official U. S. mission to the Far East were questioned by Japanese police because photos were taken of a rice field in a fortified zone. They were Rep. Bert Lord of New York (left) and Delegate Santiago Iglesias of Puerto Rico (right). Their chauffeur was detained. (Central Press)

OVERCAST SKIES FAIL TO DAMPEN ARDOR OF HUNTERS

the week made the ground soft and spongy, the ideal condition for this kind of hunting.

More sought after were cottontails, and the game commission lent cheer to the search with the statement that field reports indicated the bunnies were plentiful. Squirrels, also, the commission said, have been seen frequently in the fields and forests.

Game bird hunters went out mostly for the ringnecked pheasant, the prize booty of any hunter in Pennsylvania . Quail for dinner also was a favorite quest.

Woman Unable To Realize Extent Of Stabbing Episode

Mrs. Ruth Armitage, In Hospital At Mercer, May Get Sanity Test

(International News Service)

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 1.—Apparently unable to comprehend that she had fatally stabbed her seven-year-old son, Mrs. Ruth Armitage of Transfer lay in a hospital here today believing she was held for treatment of an old nervous ailment.

Hospital attaches said the woman was aware she had attempted to commit suicide and told physicians she wanted to remove herself. She attempted to hang herself after killing the boy.

Judge J. A. McLaughry is studying a petition asking for the appointment of a sanity commission.

TAKES PLANE RIDE ON 90TH BIRTHDAY

(International News Service)

ASHLAND, O., Nov. 1.—Allen Priest recently celebrated his ninetieth birthday by taking his second airplane ride. Four years ago, he made his first trip into the air.

"It was a foretaste of heaven," Priest said. "It was just like you read in Revelations."

His ninety-first birthday will be celebrated in an airplane, Priest declares.

ments that might be used as a basis for peace negotiations.

To Meet Baron Aloisi

Premier Pierre Laval of France received foreign minister Sir Samuel Hoare and league minister Anthony Eden of Britain, soon after their arrival here this morning.

They undoubtedly will meet informally, and probably individually, with Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Mussolini's emmissary, who is coming not to participate in the league's movements, but to be available if France and Britain want to approach him on peace measures.

Italian circles reiterated that Italy has no peace proposals to make.

The British feeling that nothing concrete towards peace can be accomplished at the present gathering, however, has now spread to the French delegation, and Premier Laval, who has consistently acted as mediator in the crisis, is obviously discouraged.

TRANSIENT CAMP BEING TORN DOWN

(International News Service)

SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 1.—A transient camp on Kelley's Island, 10 miles out in Lake Erie, is being abandoned.

The federal government has appropriated $625 of PWA funds for tearing down the camp buildings and bringing the lumber to the mainland here.

The islanders, who were anxious to have the camp before it was established, protested vigorously against the conduct of the men taken there by authorities.

Large Amount Of Delinquent Taxes Received

Twelve thousand dollars in delinquent taxes for years prior to 1935, were paid at the office of the city solicitor, City Building, yesterday, according to Solicitor Robert White who also added that during the month of October more than $35,000 in delinquent taxes for years prior to 1935, were paid.

No Confirmation Makale Taken

No Official Report Is Received In Rome As To Capture

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 1—Exchange Telegraph News Agency in an Addis Ababa dispatch today reported an "unofficial announcement" that the important northern city of Makale had been captured by the Italians at dawn.

In a Rome dispatch, however, the agency said the Italian government had received no official confirmation of the capture.

The report did not appear elsewhere in London. Confirmation was not immediately possible.

In a dispatch from their correspondent with the Italian northern forces the agency said it was believed 1,600 men of the army of Ras Gugsa, chieftain who deserted to the Italians, had entered Makale in the course of a punitive expedition.

This correspondent, however, said there was no definite confirmation that Makale was captured.

Ras Gugsa was reported to have ordered an expedition under the command of Cagnasmach Embeie to proceed to Makale and destroy his old property there. The expedition set out October 28, and since nothing has been heard from it since leaving headquarters, it was presumed they had entered Makale.

Some Damage On Hallowe'en

Some Boys Are Notified To Appear Before Mayor As Result Of Actions

Although there was no heavy damage perpetrated by Hallowe'eners last night some of their pranks proved sufficient to result in officers notifying the boys who staged them to appear before Mayor Chas. B. Mayne in Junior court Saturday morning.

Two boys who were alleged to have turned on a fire hydrant at Logan street and Boyles avenue were caught by police. They must report to His Honor.

Police also sought boys who broke lights in Euclid avenue and destroyed property at Grant and Green street and also searched for boys who threw stones in Hillcrest avenue and garbage at a home in the rear of a bakery in East Long avenue.

An automobile, carrying Pennsylvania license RF991, was found in Sampson street. It had been stolen, according to reports and was placed in such a position it blockaded a driveway.

May Have Thought Car Monkey Cage

(International News Service)

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 1.—Motorman Earl Mountz never had a reputation of telling tall stories of how a "big one" got away, but insists this one is true and has the words of his passengers to prove it.

While on his usual route, Mountz said, a wild deer politely established himself in front of the car and refused to budge. After gazing inside at an amused group of passengers until he had his fill of loafing, the animal nonchalantly sauntered off to more inviting pastures.

Miss Young Is Youngest Senior At Westminster

Miss Dorothy Young Has Honor Of Entering Senior Year At Tender Age

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 1.—Dorothy Young, 19, of New Castle, is the youngest member of the senior class at Westminster college.

Miss Young is majoring in economics, and is specializing in commercial teacher-training, which she intends to teach after graduation. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Women's Athletic Association, and is vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. Hockey and horseback riding are Miss Young's favorite sports, in both of which she is quite active.

Miss Young is the third member of her family to graduate from Westminster, having been preceded by two sisters, Margaret and Jean. A fourth sister, Nell Young, expects to follow the other three. She is the daughter of Attorney and Mrs. Charles H. Young.

Hold Man For Alleged Murder Of Brother-In-Law

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 1.—Following a coroner's investigation, Frank Diskey, 41, West Carroll township, was being held today for the murder of his brother-in-law, John Charney, 47, of Barnesboro.

Diskey allegedly shot the victim as he was bringing groceries for Diskey and his aged, bedfast father. No motive was known for the shooting, but authorities believed it was the aftermath of a family quarrel.

Diskey claimed self-defense and pleaded not guilty when arranged before Justice E. Thmopson, Ebensburg.

Two Prisoners Slain; Sheriff Suffers Wound

Gun Battle Takes Place In Jail Near New Orleans Today

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—Two negro prisoners were slain and Sheriff Frank Clancy of Jefferson parish was wounded today in a furious gun battle in the jail in suburban Gretna, on the west bank of the Mississippi river.

The prisoners slain were Henry Freeman, 24, and David Hart, 20, both held on charges of criminally attacking white women, robbery and kidnaping.

The gun battle broke loose when Sheriff Clancy, who had been tipped a gun had been smuggled to the prisoners, approached their cell to investigate. One of the negroes fired point-blank at the sheriff, but the bullet struck a steel bar on the cell door and was deflected, inflicting a deep flesh wound on Sheriff Clancy's cheek.

Deputies John Stewart and Peter Leson and Jailer Ernest Weyer opened fire on the negroes and both were believed to have been killed instantly.

However, when Coroner M. M. Odom arrived a few minutes later, one of the negroes suddenly came to life and, grabbing a gun that had fallen to the floor, opened fire on the coroner. The bullet missed its mark and before he could fire again Deputy Sheriff Stewart shot him to death.

Havana Police Discover Plot

Life Of American Ambassador Alleged To Have Been Threatened

(International News Service)

HAVANA, Nov. 1.—Havana police today stated they had uncovered documents indicating a revolutionary plot against the lives of United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery, Secretary of War Fulgencio Batista and other Cuban officials.

Cuba's No. 1 communist, Cesar Vilar, was arrested for possessing the documents which, police said, also contained plans for a revolutionary plot against the December elections.

Vilar has been a labor storm center ever since the fall of Gerardo Machado, deposed Cuban dictator. He has been in hiding for a long time, but police finally surprised him in a small room over a suburban junk-shop.

Police Cruiser Car In Wild Dash

Pedestrians along Washington street late yesterday afternoon became excited when a police cruiser car sped through the thoroughfare at a fast rate of speed toward Atlantic avenue. Their excitement soon died down when they learned that a man got into a car which looked like his but which belonged to another man and started from the Seventh Ward toward the city. The man explained to police and no arrest was made.

POWERS FOR JUDGE

Those who recall the judicial campaign of 1915, when Judge Porter, Mr. Emery, and Mr. Chambers were candidates, will remember that they ran on a non-partisan ticket. In fact a separate ballot. This was under the provisions of the law then in force, putting the judicial office on a non-partisan basis. The propriety of that viewpoint appealed to many who were conscious of the fact that partisanship should have no place on the bench. The law was repealed later. The consideration for this action was political.

The last legislature recognized the fact that the non-partisan idea as to judges is still dominant and inherently correct, and in passing the law known as the Party Raiding Bill specifically excepted nominations for the office of judge. This act had cordial approval in the public press. Those who inferentially criticize this act by criticizing those who availed themselves of its provisions are in difficulty. In the next breath they urge the straight ticket, but Jesse B. Cunningham, at present a judge of the Superior Court, a candidate for re-election and now the Republican nominee was a candidate for the nomination of both parties at the last primary.

Give Views On Trade With Italy

American Business Not Expected To Suspend All Trading Relations

SHOULD SCAN EXCESS ORDERS

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The government does not expect American business to suspend immediately all normal trade relations with Italy.

It does expect American business to refuse Italian orders which obviously are in excess of normal business and due to Italy's military campaign of conquest in Ethiopia.

It expects American business to use its own discretion in determining whether Italian offers are in excess of normal trade and to do so with a view of not aiding Italy in prolonging its war in Ethiopia, irrespective of how tempting the lure of war profits may be.

Will Clamp Down

If American business fails voluntarily to resist the lure of war profits and endangers American neutrality by accepting excessive orders from Italy, then President Roosevelt will resort to stronger measures to prohibit trade with Italy.

This, it was learned in highly authoritative quarters today, was the intent of the double-barreled statement issued by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull. Calling on American citizens to resist profits derived from "human lives and human misery" and warning that the government was closely watching all shipment to the belligerents.

Authoritative quarters said it was not expected American business should immediately suspend all trade with Italy, although attention was called to the fact that any transactions at all, normal or otherwise, were at the traders own risk.

For the present, however, the government is inclined to condone the continuance of normal business. By normal busiess is meant the filling of orders which American business ordinarily would have expected from Italy had the military campaign not been undertaken.

Continue Probe Of Vote Scandal

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1—The committee of three Republican senators investigating charges that Democratic state leaders offered to trade patronage for votes for the bill "ripping" Mayor William N. McNair of Pittsburgh from office will meet again in Harrisburg November 12. Sen. Alonzo Batchelor, Beaver, chairman, announced today.

Batchelor and the other two probers, Senators G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, and George L. Woodward, Philadelphia, will meet with the committee counsel, W. Denning Stewart. It was believed plans will be made at that time to resume public hearings with the mayor and David L. Lawrence, secretary of the commonwealth and Democratic state chairman, as the chief witnesses.

Senator Woodward is entertaining his Republican colleagues in Harrisburg November 12 and for that reason the committee decided to meet then.

Here lies Lieut. Morganati, first Italian officer to fall in the invasion of Ethiopia to be buried in Ethiopian territory. The grave is near Adowa, where many others now dot the landscape.

Many Entries For Coming Farm Show

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 1.—Entries are coming in so fast for the Pennsylvania farm show to be held next January that officials fear a shortage of space.

Officials report that already three fourths of the space has been contracted. In addition to the exhibits, meeting places must be found to accommodate 25 agricultural, horticultural and allied organizations which have applied for space.

The premium list, announcing more than $37,000 in cash awards is expected to draw a new rush of exhibits from all parts of the state.

ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 1.—James Criswell, of Linwood, was wounded in the side today when his shotgun discharged accidentally as he was crawling beneath a fence while hunting near here. The injury was not believed serious.

Youngest Member Of Freshman Class, 14

(International News Service)

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 1—At the age of 14, Frank Tranczos, of Danielsville, Pa., is the youngest member of the Freshman class at Moravian College here.

Frank started school by accident when he was five years old, appearing with a playmate one morning at a country school and getting permission from the teacher to stay. If he graduates, he will be the youngest graduate in Moravian College's history.

Shy and retiring, he admits a decided preference for books to any other diversion. He was graduated from Northampton high school, 13 miles from his home. He made that trip daily, either afoot or by bicycle, sometimes taking three and a half hours to walk to classes.

Historic House Is Given To Veterans

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 1.—The ancestral house of John Mell, a show place here for years, has been brought crumbling to the ground.

Mell, 70, a retired officer of the U. S. marines, told his neighbors many times that after he was through with his home, no one would live in it.

And now Mell is through with the home. He gave the property to the local Veterans of Foreign Wars chapter, on condition that the house be torn down and rebuilt.

Mell inherited the property from his parents and has resided there alone for more than 10 years. He plans to spend the rest of his life travelling leisurely, his first stop being California.

Yellow Mongrel Saves His Mistress

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 1.—A yellow-furred mongrel saved the life of his mistress, Mrs. Walter Garsecki, and died in the flames he announced to her as she slept, unaware her home was on fire.

"Shep" bounded upstairs when smoke below choked him. He barked outside Mrs. Garsecki's door-until she awakened. She leaped out a window. When firemen closed a closet door after the blaze had subsided, they found an enert figure. It was "Shep". They'd forgotten to save him.

VOLIVA SHOWS FEAR OVER QUAKES

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, the phophet of Zion, who maintains the earth is flat and has several times predicted the end of time, today saw fearful consequences in the earthquakes that have been rocking the country. He said:

"Earthquakes are one of the ominous signs of the close of the present dispensation, the passing of the old order politically and otherwise and the birth of a new order."

Champion Wife Deserter Is Found

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Emma Mae Hunter told Judge Frank P. Patterson that her husband left her once too often and that she wanted a divorce.

Hugh Hunter, the husband, she said, finally stayed away after deserting her 45 times.

Judge Patterson suggested she was married to a "visiting husband."

"That's just what he was," the neglected one replied.

Auction Purchase Proved A Bonanza

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Nov. 1—Warren H. Wolfe, replacing a broken glass on a picture he purchased for ten cents at an auction found five $10 bills, two $20 bills, two tarnished silver dollars and an old dollar certificate—$93 in all—secreted behind the frame.

Word of his "bonanza" spread like wildfire and Ralph B. Foltz, another dime picture purchaser, found seven $1 bills and a $5 note.

P. S.—Needless to say the auction from then on was a huge success.

Family Altar Is Fast Disappearing

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 1.—The United States has become the most lawless and criminal nation in the world, the Rev. George D. Jones, president of the Eastern Conference of the Methodist Protestant church, declared in his annual report at the 25th convention of the organization here.

"The old-fashioned home with its family altar is fast passing," he added.

TO THE VOTERS:

It is my belief that the unwarranted charges of my opponent in this campaign and the undue prominence that he is seeking to give the matter of campaign expenditures will not becloud the issue in the minds of thinking voters. Let every voter ask himself, was my vote bought?

Let me repeat the information I have previously given. The expenditures in the judgeship campaign in Lawrence county ten years ago were respectively: $5538.61, $5582.08, $4571.82. The expenditures in the judgeship campaign in Butler county two years ago were respectively: $3976.23, $4259.66, $7671.17, $8359.90, $902.36. All of my expenditures were for proper and legal purposes. They have been accounted for honestly in a full and detailed account.

The office for judge is an office of dignity and responsibility. It should be kept free from everything which will detract the voters from the simple question, which of our candidates is the best qualified to hold the office? My past life, and in particular my career at the bar, is the best answer to questions which may arise in the mind of the voter. In particular I wish to thank Mr. Downey, public works administrator, for the assurance which he has given that all relief employees may vote freely according to their conscience. No good citizen should ask more.

Sincerely yours,
W. WALTER BRAHAM.

SCHOOL PLAY NEARS

At 8 o'clock on Friday evening, November 8, the music department is sponsoring the first play of the year, Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen". This is a four-act comedy, given for the benefit of the library and the music departments.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK

Seeing quite a few Girl Scout uniforms being worn this week, we find that this is National Girl Scout Week. The Girl Scouts wear their uniforms all week to commemorate the birth of Juliette Lowe, founder of the Girl Scouts, on October 31.

GIRL RESERVES MEETING

On Monday evening, October 28, the Girl Reserves of Senior high met in the parlor of the Y. W. C. A. The devotionals were in charge of Emma Caloluca. Peggy England was in charge of the short business meeting. The girls then went to their interest groups, with the following in charge: Dramatics, Miss McGeorge; bridge, Miss Turk; and knitting, Miss Popp and Mrs. P. E. Shaffer.

OUTING PLANS MADE

Monday evening, during their weekly meeting, the Hi-Y made plans for a wiener roast. It is to be held at the "Y" Camp, Monday of next week. All those planning to go are to meet at the Y. M. C. A. at seven o'clock Monday evening.

Dale Grove and James De Garmo were voted into the club as new members. As one member has been dropped from the club, one more vacancy exists before the quota will be filled. Anyone interested in joining should see Bill Theis.

GREGOR STUDENT HEAD

On Monday of this week, the student representatives elected the officers for this semester. They are:

President—Richard Gregor.
Vice President—Eddie Donegan.
Secretary—Dave Rowland.
Assistant Secretary—John Cabos.
Treasurer—Charles Probst.

Eddie Donegan, chairman of the committee appointed to look into the conditions existing after the Johnstown football game, gave a report of the meeting held Tuesday, October 15, in room 118.

PRE-SESSION SQUAD

The supervisors for the pre-session squad are: Chairman, Miss Riffer; assistants, Mr. Brown and Miss Elliot.

The duties of this squad are to guard all entrances in early morning; direct and supervise entrance pupils; clear all halls of pupils; direct late comers to session rooms or office; check students in halls without permits; and to be on duty from 8:00 a. m. to 9:15 a. m.

Later on in the school season girls will be used on this squad and early applications are desired. Any girls interested in joining please see Miss Riffer in room 212, either A or third periods.

SENIOR B's ASSEMBLE

The Senior B class held a class meeting on Wednesday morning of this week in the auditorium. The meeting was opened with an address by the president, Eddie Donegan, who acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced in turn the officers of the class which include: Jim Barnes, vice president; Pansy Martini, secretary and Dave Rowland, treasurer. Each one gave a talk when introduced. The treasurer gave a report of the finances of the class.

A very worth while program was arranged by the program committee and consisted of a tap dance by Billie Glenn; an accordian solo, Armas Joki and a song by Dorothy Donahey accompanied on the piano by Bettie McCurdy. Several selections were rendered by an orchestra made up of the members of this class and they included: Joe Markell, John Markell, Gene Schweinsberg, Wilfred Alloe and Fred Johns.

The committee responsible for this entertaining program consisted of James Barnes, Pansy Martini, George Hohn, Dorothy Linz, Anna Mae Holmes and Eleanor McFall.

ENJOY SCIENCE CHAPEL

An educational as well as an interesting program was presented on Tuesday morning in the auditorium.

Under the sponsorship of the science department, John S. Sloan came to the high school and gave a demonstration of the properties of liquid air. Mr. Sloan has lectured before in many different high schools and colleges of the United States.

His experiments were both amazing and sensational. Among the many things which he displayed was the driving of a nail with a banana which had been placed in liquid air, the boiling of a teakettle and frying an egg on a cake of ice. He combined charcoal and liquid air and produced a blinding explosion.

A courageous student consented to have some of the liquid air poured on his hand, but no damage was done. Mr. Sloan climaxed the demonstration by taking some of the liquid air into his mouth and blowing it out in great white clouds. The students enjoyed this assembly very much.

SENATUS ROMANUS MEETING

This morning, the Senatus Romanus held the initiation of new members. There was no business meeting because of the large number to be initiated. The following new members were received Mary Ellen Henderson, Theresa Love, Ruth Schmidt, Paul Onicka, Helen Villani, Ted Marlin, Estelle Cukerbaum, Sara Nitsche, Nick Santangelo, Vivian Davidson, Janet Hartland, Josephine Jenkins, Louis Ross and Margaret Mary Maher.

ORCHESTRA ON PROGRAM

An orchestra, made up of a portion of the high school orchestra, played for a Rotary club dinner on Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian church.

ANNUAL PICTURES TAKEN

On Thursday morning more groups of pictures for the senior yearbook were taken. These pictures included girl reserves and various service squads.

NE-CA-HI PERSONALS

Margaret Anderson is confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital for observation.

James Dufford, member of the annual staff, dislocated his collar bone this week.

Merril Walls was handicapped this week with an injured hand.

Frank Taylor, Jr., injured in an automobile accident some time ago, is reported improved.

SENIOR B's IN CHARGE

This column has now been turned over to the Senior B's to write for the remainder of this semester and the beginning of next.

Several new reporters have been recruited from the ranks of Senior B's and the personnel now includes Johnrae Earl, Martha Nell Shaffer, David Rowland, Charlotte Reynolds and James Barnes. These are the reporters who collect the material and write the articles for this column every week.

The former reporters under the leadership of Margaret McCracken have turned all of their attention to the making of the year book for the January graduating class.

Anyone having anything to contribute to this column please get in touch with one of the above named reporters.

NEW ENCYCLOPEDIA

Word comes from the library that they have received a new complete set of Encyclopedia Americana. These arrived at the school during the early part of the week and are now being catalogued and numbered preparatory to placing them upon the shelves. This set numbers about 26 books, including two of the very latest reference books which are now published.

This is undoubtedly the most valuable addition to the library for some time along the reference line and will probably be the last this semester.

PROBE ROWDYISM

In regard to certain acts of rowdyism of local fans at football games and drunkenness which has been particularly noticeable at a couple of games away from home, the student council of the senior high school has done some investigating of their own and have found to the best of their knowledge, that these actions have been by people not connected with the high school at all.

The student council and the student body are greatly concerned with the unfavorable publicity that has been given due to these actions. They realize that such actions reflect upon the senior high school itself even though the high school students had no part in it. The student body through the student council is most anxious that actual efforts should be made to eliminate such conditions at our football games, and they are on record that they will cooperate in every way within their power with Mr. Orth, the athletic council, the police authorities and the citizens of New Castle in general to put an end to these reported actions. They will particularly welcome any suggestions from any source where they can help toward this end.

PLAINGROVE PUPILS' PLAY IS POSTPONED

The Plaingrove high school play, "The Unexpected Debut," has been postponed and further announcement will be given of the day it will be presented, the school announces.

The reason so many people don't have natural charm is because they are too lazy to do the necessary practicing.

MANUAL TRAINING CLUBS

Because there were approximately 40 students eager to join a club having to do with shop work, but having a different aim, Mr. Hostettler, manual training teacher, composed two clubs.

The "Whittling and Carving club" will strive to see if they can develop a hobby for some of the boys on a small scale.

The members of the "General club" intend to make different pieces of furniture.

The clubs each meet twice a month and expect to work out a constitution in the near future.

JOURNALISM CLUB

At a special meeting of the Journalism club on Thursday, October 24, the following people were appointed to fill positions on the staff of the Be-Hi Record:

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The chapel program of October 24 was sponsored by Miss Macklin. The students had the honor of listening to several piano selections played by E. H. Freeman, professor of piano at Westminster college. His selections were made more interesting by his explanation of each title. The program was as follows:

Piano concert—E. H. Freeman.
Selections—Joe Martin, Jr., and Dick Scott.
Violin duet—Joe Martin and Geo. Pelto.
Clarinet solo—Loyal Weitz.
Announcements by Mr. Nord.
Chapel this week is being arranged by Miss Landman.

JUNIOR PLAY

The juniors announce "Charley's Aunt", a comedy in three acts, as the selection of their play. The cast will be announced Thursday, with rehearsals starting at once. No definite date has been set for the play, but it will probably be given about the third week in December.

SENIOR NOTES

The senior class is planning a party for November 15. It will probably be in the form of a Thanksgiving party.

PHOTO CLUB

Under the leadership of Mr. Capezzuti, a "photo club" has been organized. The purpose of this particular club is to learn correct methods of taking pictures, and how to develop and print pictures. Any student owning a camera and interested in this sort of club is eligible for membership. The meetings are planned for every Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

FACULTY STEAK FRY

The high school faculty is planning a steak fry to be held on November 6. Miss Landman is general chairman for the event. Miss Wilder, who was appointed to secure the place, decided on Bear's Den in Mill Creek park. Miss Gardner has charge of the program of sports and Miss Crawford is treasurer.

SCHOOL NOTES

Ruth Clark has been admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital and is recuperating from an operation resulting from an attack of appendicitis.

Elizabeth Sheldon, who attended this school last year, will be married on November 9, 1935, to Joe Viggolitti of Cleveland.

To Perpetuate Rogers' Memory

Fred L. Rentz Accepts Chairmanship Of Committee In Local District

CAMPAIGN OPENS ON NOVEMBER 4

Fred L. Rentz, president of The News company, has accepted the chairmanship for the local community of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, which will open a campaign for funds for a suitable memorial to this great American, who was recently killed in an airplane crash in Alaska.

The campaign will start on November 4, the 56th anniversary of Will Rogers' birth. Mr. Rentz received a letter yesterday from Eddie Rickenbacker, director of the operations committee of the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, asking him to accept the chairmanship for New Castle and the surrounding trading area, which responsibility he has willingly accepted.

The Will Rogers Memorial Commission, which includes such men as Owen D. Young, Will Hays, Amos G. Carter, F. Trubee Davison, Jesse H. Jones and Governor Marland of Oklahoma, is providing a nation-wide opportunity for thousands of people to perpetuate the memory of Will Rogers through free-will contributions.

Later, a committee on memorials will meet to determine the character and location of the memorials to be erected. Whatever is done will be in keeping with the life and human qualities of Will Rogers.

The general theme of the meetings here will be "The Glories of Christ in the Old and New Testaments."

Dr. D. L. Ferguson is pastor of the local church. The Sunday services will be at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

MY NEW YORK

By JAS. ASWELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—His name is Bob Miller. You never heard of him?

He sits in a cubicle office on the eighth floor of the Brill Building, the gabble of Broadway in his ears, writing songs about Home and Mother and "The Death of Dutch Schultz." He makes more money consistently than any other song-writer-publisher, and I mean than any other: in a good year he has cleared $300,000.

Somebody from the deep South wrote me: "Tell us about Bob Miller." In the same way as asking, "Tell us about Bing Crosby." Broadway could furnish me with few clues, for none of his songs sell on Broadway, but I tracked him down.

He wrote "The Death of Dutch Schultz" eighteen months ago. He has to be prepared. If "The Death of Dutch Schultz" doesn't sell 75,000 records—nothing remarkable, but a good, healthy sale—he has "The Death of Mussolini" and "The Death of Hitler" ready against the future.

The mail-order houses sell incredible quantities of his song-books and records. An order for 90,000 books was on dis desk.

To visitors he recites his song about Mother. His eyes grow damp, his voice husky. He is a Tennessee boy grown older, with a nostalgia you could cut with a knife. If you've the type that goes around cutting people's nostalgias.

His greatest success was called "11-cent Cotton, 40-cent Meat." Over 2,500,000 records of that one sold, more records than ever sold of a single song in the history of the world.

Miller's hardest job was writing a song-eulogy of Huey Long—more than a year before the Kingfish was slain. He hated Huey so. But the result was successful, has been adopted as a campaign song by Huey's political heirs.

Bob sang "11-cent Cotton, 40-cent Meat" himself for the platter. He can't sing a note.

His next greatest hit was "21 Years," a sobby lyric dealing with the real case of a young man who took a 21-year rap in jail for his faithless girl friend.

Excursion trains carried pilgrims from all over the South to the jail in Nashville where the original of the song was supposed to be confined. Visitors wept, brought gifts of fried chicken and sponge cake.

"It was the wrong feller, too," Bob told me.

I nominate him for the book of Celebrities Broadway Never Heard Of.

In the windowless, powder-box stuffiness of the French Casino backstage reception room I met a young woman named Renita Kramer. She is not pretty, but she has a sharply chiseled, strong face.

One of her hands is feminine—nails manicured, stained red, long and pointed—and the other masculine—nails filed close and unvarnished. She does what is undoubtedly the most daring dance on a Broadway used to mere nudity. Miss Kramer does not dance nude: her act is a half-boy, half-girl pantomine that pops eyes none the less.

She is from Riga, Latvia, and she is the saddest girl in town. She is so ashamed, so humiliated. Another girl translated her plaint:

"Oh, America is so cruel. I have never done anything bad in my life. I am a good girl. But what happens? Along comes this chorus girl in that horried show to sue me for stealing her dance. Imagine! I invented this dance, made up every bit of it myself. How can this girl claim my art?"

The rival lass is seeking an injunction to restrain Miss Kramer from doing the "couple" dance, on the ground that it is pilfered. But I kept thinking: the censors aren't a problem any more. Now it's plagiarism.

The local Watch and Warders seem to have surrendered the field.

MAKING IT EASY FOR POLICEMAN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH.—Police Lieut. Harry Hatteras parked his radio car while he made an investigation and when he returned, he found Joseph Roach, 36, comfortably couched in the back seat.

"I am a citizen," began Mr. Roach, "and I have a right to see how a radio car works. I want a ride."

Lieut. Hatteras obliged. He took Roach for a nice ride—to the police station, where he was booked for intoxication.

Says Lakes Don't Fill Up From Shore

Ohio College Professor Makes Tests Which Disprove Theory

(International News Service)

TIFFIN, O.—The universal belief that lakes fill up from the shore has been disproved by Dr. Ira T. Wilson, head of the Biology department at Heidelberg college. Dr. Wilson has been doing research work regarding deposits of lake sediment at Lake Winona, Indiana, for the past several summers. Last summer, by improved technique, he has been able to carry on quite extensive experimentation to show that lakes fill up from the middle.

He drilled six cross sections across Winona Lake to the original bottom, which involved digging in 80 feet of water and to a total depth of 130 feet. The deepest layer of sediment penetrated was 51 feet. The cross sections made a profile view of the sediment of the lake which was found to be mostly calcium carbonate.

Dr. Wilson worked out an apparatus for getting samples of sediment at all levels. The chemical analysis of this sediment has not yet been completed, but it is expected to bring valuable information.

OHIO VILLAGE HAS NO UNEMPLOYMENT

SOMERSET, O.—There are no idle men here at present and won't be for some time. Double shifts of workers are employed on the new waterworks plant and with the local brick plant operating and a new addition to the local school to be built the unemployment situation here has improved 100 per cent.

Moose Lodge To Celebrate

Special Program Will Be Observed By L. O. O. M. On Sunday

SUPREME DICTATOR PLANS TO ATTEND

Twenty seven years of successful fraternal service will be celebrated Sunday, November 3 by the members of Lodge 51, Loyal Order of Moose in their building on South Mercer street. Elaborate plans have been made and the day will be one of interest and reminiscence for the members.

For the day's program the supreme dictator Hon. Walter S. Ruff of Canton, O., has promised to be in attendance and will deliver an address on Sunday afternoon following the initiatory services. At these services a large class of new members will be pledged to the principle and ideals of the Loyal Order of Moose. The degrees will be exemplified by the New Castle degree team, headed by past dictator, Harry Wright.

Sunday At Two

The services start Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and will continue on into the evening. Dictator James Reynolds has appointed many committees to handle the various parts of the program and the membership committee under the direction of Chairman Edward M. Taylor has been especially active.

The local lodge of Moose was organized in 1908 with a small band of men gathering together under the banner of Moosedom. Charles Jenkins, now deceased, was the first dictator. Through the years the lodge has made its place in civic and fraternal affairs, has been a factor in the promotion and development of the home for children at Mooseheart, Ill., and the home for the aged at Jacksonville, Florida.

Many of the members at the celebration Sunday were members of that first group who organized the Moose here and for them the day will be one of satisfaction. They can look back through the years they have devoted to the cause of their order and feel a pride in what has been accomplished.

Experience Counts In WPA Employment

Supervisor Of All Placements Tells Methods In Statement Today

Supervisor Edward D. Reese, of the Federal-State Employment office, in a formal statement issued today, made known the methods employed in the selection of workers for WPA-state highway work projects locally.

In explaining the method of selection and employment priority, Mr. Reese stated that all applicants referred on work projects by his office are selected on the basis of qualifications for the job with consideration given to previous training and experience, special abilities and educational achievements. The physical condition of workers referred for hard manual labor is also given careful consideration. When possible, handicapped persons are given employment in cases where such persons may be safely assigned to work which they can ably perform.

Generally, in the selection of workers for assignment on WPA work projects, those on the relief rolls as of May, 1935, rank first in eligibility for employment. If no workers are readily available in this group or in the event that any occupational class is exhausted through employment, then those persons certified by the relief authorities subsequent to May, 1935, may be selected.

Reese stated that the employment office is prepared to mail work notices to as many of the remaining unemployed as may be required by the WPA-state highway department agencies in their effort to complete the federal work program. In addition to its relation to the federal work program, the employment office continues to serve local private employers with applicants from its industrial, domestic, commercial, technical and professional registration files.

On Court House Hill

Frequent inquiries are made at the marriage license bureau as to the age requirement in West Virginia. Prothonotary R. M. Campbell wrote to the Wheeling, W. Va., bureau for definite information and has just received a letter in which it is stated that both parties to the license must be 21 years old. Under that age the consent of parents is needed, either in person, or by affidavit. Parties securing licenses in West Virginia must be married in that state.

In the estate of Elizabeth B. McConnell, late of Pittsburgh, a certificate from the Allegheny county court, showing that Agnes L. Sharp has taken out letters testamentary in the estate has been filed at the register and recorder's office, owing to a portion of the estate being in Lawrence county.

With the election only a few days away it may be well to remind election boards that care is needed in filling out the election returns in order that there be no delay in counting the vote. After the recent primary it was found that some of the election boards had failed to follow the printed instructions. At least one board put the unused ballots into the box containing the used ballots. The unused ballots should be returned separately. There were also a number of errors of a clerical nature, some of the officials failing to note the number of votes on the tally sheets.

There are two large envelopes for use of election boards in making their returns. In one, the board places the return sheet to be used in the official count. This envelope is to be sealed. The other envelope is for a similar return sheet for the use of the newspapers and the public. This envelope is not to be sealed. Election boards can assist materially in seeing that their returns are made out in conformity with the printed instructions.

An amicable action in ejectment has been filed at the prothonotary's office by Katherine Laughline against Domenico and Rose Simone of Ellwood City, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover a property at 1021½ Center avenue, Ellwood City. The property was leased to the defendants on November 19, 1921, and it is claimed that there is $960 rent due.

Letters of administration in the estate of the late Albert D. Ripple of Mahoning township have been issued at the register and recorder's office to W. G. Ripple. In the estate of the late Anna Thomas of this city, letters have been issued to Arthur D. Thomas.

Judge James A. Chambers has handed down an opinion in the case of R. C. Kerr and James A. McLaughry, surviving trustees under the will of the late George W. Wright against Tressa E. Wright, surviving obligor and the Equitable Life Assurance Company, garnishee.

This is a case in which an attachment in execution was issued and the Equitable Life Assurance Company was summoned as garnishee. In an answer to interrogatories filed on the part of plaintiff, the garnishee stated that on October 25, 1932, defendant issued to Tressa E. Wright a refund annuity contract, which called for the payment to her of $99.80 per month for life, and payment had been made on this annuity contract up until the time of the issuing of the attachment. The garnishee further alleged that under the act of May 3, 1917 payments under an annuity contract are not subject to attachment.

To this position the plaintiff filed two exceptions. First, it was contended that answer did not set forth a copy of the annuity contract; second, that under the provision of the May 3, 1917 act such contracts are only immune from attachment when the purchaser at tthe time of purchase is solvent. It is alleged that on October 25, 1932 Tressa E. Wright was insolvent.

In Judge Chambers opinion the exceptions filed by the plaintiff to answer to interrogatories are sustained, and the Equitable Life Assurance Company is directed to file a supplemental answer thereto setting forth a copy of the contract with the defendant as well as a statement as to the solvency of Tressa E. Wright at the time the contract was made.

Work of distributing ballots and election supplies to the boroughs and townships throughout the county will begin tomorrow morning. A half dozen or more men will do the work, each taking a certain number of townships and boroughs. Ballots for the city precincts will be distributed by the county commissioners on next Monday.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts kept the treasurer's office open until 9 o'clock last night in order to give eleventh hour taxpayers an opportunity to pay their taxes at face. This morning the duplicates were turned over to the delinquent tax collector, Edward Umbright, and five per cent is added.

Yesterday was also the last day for taking advantage of the act of assembly remitting interest and penalties on delinquent taxes. There will be no further opportunity to escape penalties and interest unless the next legislature so decrees.

In addition to taking in taxes last night Treasurer Pitts issued a large number of hunting licenses.

SAYS MOST STUDENTS ARE GETTING JOBS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.— Another sign of returning prosperity was seen here by Drexel Institute officials when figures revealed that 79 per cent of last year's graduates already have found jobs. While the general average of job-getters in the class was four out of five, an even better record of 89.7 per cent was made by graduates of the school of engineering.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. October 31, two arrests on a charge of intoxication.

Although a decanter at the city police station is kept filled with castor oil no doses to men charged with drunkenness have been given out recently. Most of the unfortunates who appeared almost daily before the mayor have either curbed their thirst or have managed to evade officers.

According to police record one man here was arrested 103 times during one year.

With better relations existing between the WPA and the city it is believed that within the near future work on several projects will be resumed. The five jobs approved will represent a cost of $35,000, which will be spent in this city.

A friend is a person or nation that gets some kind of profit from us.

Ninety days of constant hiccoughing are weakening Irene Laura, 23, as Boston City hospital doctors vainly try to halt the malady by administering anesthetics to relax her contracted throat muscles.

Seattle Municipal Light Bond Issue Totals $5,500,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A banking syndicate headed by Bancamerica-Blair Corporation is offering a new issue of $5,500,000 City of Seattle, Washington, municipal light and power 4 per cent bonds at prices to yield from 2.50 per cent to 4.10 per cent, according to maturity.

HEAR BILLBOARD OBJECTIONS MONDAY

Planning commission sent a letter to council which was read during the meeting Thursday in which the commission approved a billboard ordinance which regulates how and where they shall be built. No action was taken on the ordinance.

Objections to the bill will be expressed by opponents Monday, it was stated by Mayor Charles B. Mayne.

Daughter Will Help Send Her "Dad" To Chair

Says That She Hates Him On Account Of His Killing Her Employer

(International News Service)

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo.—Daughter will be arrayed against father when Harvey Taylor, 60, goes on trial here on Nov. 12, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of William F. Noonan, 41, wealthy attorney.

The daughter, Cecil Taylor, 21-year-old stenographer in Noonan's law office here, who witnessed the fatal shooting of her employer, was adamant in her determinatioh that her father should be punished.

"I saw father kill Bill—that is, Mr. Noonan," she said. "It was awful. He had no right to do so, none whatever. It was all unnecessary and so cruel.

"My father had no right to kill Mr. Noonan. If I am asked to testify, I will tell the truth I know it. I'll testify against my father if the state wants me to."

Taylor shot and killed Noonan in broad daylight in one of Glenwood Springs' principal business streets.

Noonan, reputed to be one of the wealthiest lawyers in the state, was divorced from the late Ruth Nicholson, daughter of a former United States senator from Colorado, several years ago.

The girl, who said she had not been on friendly terms with her father for several months, had been living apart from her family.

Taylor refused to give a reason for his act other than declaring that Noonan "couldn't talk about my family that way." He revealed that he had intended to kill himself also but became so enraged at Noonan that he emptied his revolver into the prostrate body of the attorney and found he had no shells left with which to commit suicide.

Immediately after emptying his gun into Noonan's body, Taylor walked, revolver in hand, through the streets to the office of Sheriff George Winters and surrendered.

Later, from remarks made by the prisoner, authorities became convinced that he intended to plead self-defense and had engaged an Iowa attorney to defend him.

Referring to rumors that Taylor might involve his daughter in his defense, Miss Taylor said:

"I know they are talking about me," she declared. "But what they are saying isn't true. They have no right to link my name with Mr. Noonan's.

"Mr Noonan was my employer, but that is all.

"I know my father has been quarreling with Mr. Noonan, but it wasn't about me, and I don't know what it was all about."

STOP THAT COUGH with KEMP'S BALSAM

SAYS POLICE CUT PROTECTION COSTS

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa.—This city is able to keep operating costs of its police department down by use of police cruiser cars, officials declared.

With its 99 uniformed officers the city stood fifth in the state among third class cities in 1934, in size of personnel and law enforcement budget. Territory is covered twice as thoroughly, efficiently and frequently by automobiles as by patrolmen on foot, the department officials explained, thus reducing costs.

HOW QUICKLY CAN CAR BE STOPPED?

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—Not "how fast can a car go?" but "how quickly can it be stopped?" is the question motorists should have in mind while driving, declared Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Keystone Automobile Club.

When drivers exceed the state limit of 40 miles an hour, Curran pointed out, by traveling 60 miles an hour, their automobiles become a ton of steel hurling onward at a rate of 38 feet a second.

Graham Heads Pitt Publicity

Former Westminster Man Also Elected Pitt Instructor In Journalism

ROBERT X. GRAHAM

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 1—Robert X. Graham has been elected instructor in journalism and director of publicity at the University of Pittsburgh effective today Chancellor John G. Bowman announces. Graham succeeds McCready Huston, well known author and newspaper man, who has been appointed editor of the Indianapolis Times.

Graham has, since September, been an instructor in journalism at both Pennsylvania College for Women and at the University of Pittsburgh, and has been director of publicity at P. C. W. He will continue to instruct journalism classes at P. C. W. and will have charge of the courses in journalism at the University.

Graham came to Pittsburgh from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., where he served 10 years as instructor and assistant professor in journalism, director of publicity, track coach, and assistant athletic director. He was educated at Colgate University and the University of Wisconsin, and has been a frequent conntributor to a number of trade, professional and fraternal periodicals.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Graham will, in addition to handling the news bureau work, be adviser to the staffs of the Pitt News and the Pitt Panther, student publications. He will have as his assistants, Kathryn Till, assistant in the news bureau office; Luke Swank, photographer and student assistants.

More Voting Machines For Mercer County

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 1.—Four additional voting machines have been rented by the commissioners for the November 5 election.

Machines are used in 42 of the 97 voting precincts of the county. The additions due to the heavy registration are made in the second precinct of the first ward in Sharon; the third precinct of that ward and the second precinct of the fifth ward.

In Greenville an additional machine is added in the third ward.

DEBATE IN ASSEMBLY

The program presented to pupils of Union high school on Thursday, October 17, in charge of Mr. Hoffmaster, was in the form of a very interesting and amusing debate.

LEATHER STORY IS TOLD

During the noon hour on Friday, October 18, a very interesting account of the romance of leather was presented to the student body.

SEE NAVAL PICTURES

Through the courtesy of M. L. Nixon, the students of Union were able to enjoy a very interesting account, in talking and moving pictures, of the foreign lands.

THE MARIONETTE CIRCUS

The Marionette circus which appeared before President Roosevelt was given for the students of Union high school on Thursday, October 31.

GIRL RESERVES MEET

On Wednesday, October 23, the Union High Girl Reserves held their weekly meeting.

The meeting was devoted to singing under Mrs. J. F. Replogle's leadership.

At the meeting of October 30, a delightful program of popular songs was presented by Albert Trenga and Jack Stockman, vocalists, accompanied by Miss Josephine Wallace, a member of the high school faculty.

Members of the cabinet are to meet November 7.

PALETTE CLUB MEETS

The regular weekly meeting of the Palette club was held Wednesday, Octobers 30.

The main question before the club was the publishing of the school paper "The U-Hi News", which is sponsored by the club. This paper is published monthly. The first issue was placed on sale Thursday, October 31.

A letter was read concerning the felt palettes to be purchased as the emblem of the club.

LECTURE IS HEARD

On October 24, Mr. Bowser of Warren, O., gave a lecture on his trip through the west, which he illustrated by means of colored slides. He later presented some very educational colored motion pictures of Indian life.

GUESTS OF COLLEGE

About 25 of the faculty and students of Union high were guests of Slippery Rock college on October 36, when they enjoyed a football game and a trip around the campus.

HI-Y ADDS MEMBERS

The Union Hi-Y, Jay Rudolph adviser, has voted five new members into the club . These pledges will be initiated next Wednesday night at the high school auditorium. The members plan to have their fathers as guests at this occasion. Mr. McMullen will give a talk on detective work.

Last Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. the Hi-Y members heard Mr. Fox speak on "City Parks".

LIBRARIANS ARE BUSY

The librarians are being kept busy cataloging new books which have been donated to the library, checking books in and out and collecting fines for overdue books.

HOME TREATMENT FOR VARICOSE VEINS, ULCERS
Swollen veins may become dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at Eckerd's Drug Store, or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunches at once. A small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or the finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced.
So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings not due to systemic disease.

NEW CASTLE HIGH AT CHARLEROI TONIGHT

"Red Hurricane" Seeking Eighth Victory Of Year

New Castle Team In Fine Shape, Final Game For "Blackie" Adamo

TEAM LEAVES BY BUS FOR BATTLE

SHORTLY after 1 o'clock this afternoon a squad of 35 New Castle High football players, Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, Assistant Coaches Klee and Thomas, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, team physician and a News sport writer boarded a bus for Charleroi. The game at Charleroi starts at 8 o'clock.

Tonight at the Charleroi baseball park the "Red Hurricane" will go into action against the Stephanian coached Cougars. The last time that New Castle played at Charleroi the locals walked off with a 14 to 6 victory.

Seek Eighth In Row

The New Castles will be trying for their eighth straight victory tonight. The team is in the best of shape for the game. None of the boys suffered any serious injuries in the game at Erie last Friday.

Albert "Blackie" Adamo the sterling center, one of the finest ever turned out by Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will play his last game tonight. Today Adamo is 20, and the rules say that you can't play after you become 20 years of age. The fans and students will give Adamo a big hand tonight when he trots out on the field. He will get a tremendous ovation at the close of the game. Adamo i very popular not only with the team, but with the student body at Senior High.

If New Casctle can win tonight, they will have four Class AA games in the bag. Butler, Johnstown and Washington having fallen prey to the fierce "Red Hurricane."

Brush Up On Passes

Bridenbaugh has put quite a few hours in this week with Robert "Flash" Engs and Eddie Donegan. This will be the starting backfield bets. The running attack at Erie was not quite what it should have been, neither were the forward passes. The New Castles made one out of 10 at Erie stadium. Not a very good record.

Harry "Kaiser" Toscano will hold down the left end post tonight as it should be held down. This youngster is one of the finest ends that New Castle has ever had, and ranks with Tony Ostrosky, Ronnie Thomas, and others.

In event of a good dry field tonight the New Castle "Hurricans" should take the measure of the Cougars. The Charleroians have lost one or two games this year and are out of the Class AA running, and they would like to put New Castle out of the race also.

Mayor And Police Chief Go Hunting

Mayor Charles B Mayne and Chief of Police John F. Haven early this morning departed for the fields in an effort to bring home game. Annually both hunt on the first day of the season. Several days ago Mayor Mayne warned council that inasmuch as council meeting was scheduled to fall on today, the first day of the season, he would like colleagues to hold their meeting one day ahead of schedule—which was done yesterday.

Motor Routes To Charleroi

B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club today furnished two routes which can be used by motorists Friday night on the trip to the football game at Charleroi.

The first route is by way of Route 422 to Portersville and to Zelienople on Route 19. Follow 19 into Pittsburgh, across the Manchester bridge left to the Boulevard of the Allies, right through the Liberty tunnels, take route 88 to Library, through Finleyville and Monongahela to Charleroi.

The second route is by way of route 18, through Wampum, Beaver Falls, Rochester, Frankfort Springs, and Burgettstown to Washington. From there take 31 to Monongahela and thence into Charleroi on 88.

Ohio State Is Favored To Win Over Notre Dame

Buckeyes Favored 7 To 5, Minnesota To Battle Purdue

MICHIGAN-PENN TEAMS TO CLASH

By BILL COLLINS
International News Service Sports Writer.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—There will be other football games in the middle west tomorrow besides the Notre Dame-Ohio State affair at Columbus, but nobody seems to be very interested in them.

At that, it is nothing new for the Irish to schedule a Big Ten team and then take the play away from the conference.

All tickets, 77,000, for tomorrow's embroglio which may well decide the national championship, have been sold. Gate-crashers, Annie Oakleys, ushers, bandsmen, and so on will bring the attendance in the stadium that Chick Harley built up to approximately 80,000.

Though both teams come up to tomorrow's business undefeated, Notre Dame's gruelling schedule—Carnegie, Pitt and Navy on succeeding Saturdays—and Ohio State's mass of reserve power made the Buckeyes 7 to 5 favorites today.

Elsewhere, Big Ten teams will play out their schedules just as though it mattered.

Minnesota Vs. Purdue.

At Minneapolis, Minnesota and Purdue, both undefeated in the Western conference, will do their part to keep the championship from ending in a tie. Minnesota, conceded a slight edge by neutral observers, will be seeking to ring up its 21st consecutive game without a defeat (several ties mar the record).

On the northwestern campus even the excitement of homecoming fails to wipe away the gloom over the physical condition of Bob Swisher, one of Lynn Waldorf's few good backs. And they are also fearful of the Illini repertoire which includes plays reminiscent of the sandwiches on a tea shoppe menu—the California special, the flying trapeze and the razzle dazzle.

Michigan Vs Penn.

Michigan and Penn meet in an intersectional affair at Ann Arbor. Michigan injuries make Penn the favorite.

Ozzie Simmons and his 10 Hawkeye teammates are expected to have little trouble disposing of the hapless Hoosiers from Bloomington. Ossie Solem indicated he would start the same outfit that started against and beat Illinois last week.

DeHarts-Ryantown To Clash Nov. 16

The benefit football game at Taggart Field between the DeHarts and Ryantown independent football teams, will be played on Saturday, November 16, instead of this week, it was announced.

The game is a benefit for the Character Chest. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools here has been appointed to take charge of the game. Chief of Police Haven will co-operate with his entire department. The two rival football machines will give the fans a real treat. Tickets for the game may be bought at Sporting Goods Store, Paisleys Drug Store, and from the managers of both of the teams.

KEYSTONE A. C. TO MEET

An important meeting of the Keystone A. C. has been carded for tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the club rooms. The following are urged to attend: P. Maciarello, V. Ross, J. Cooper, Turco, G. Ross, F. Marcella, Mancine, Roman, Merando and Benincase.

During the summer months Uncle Sam's Forest Service crews have been fighting an average of 28 fires a day.

Westminster Is Eager For Game

Hope For Victory In Clash With Edinboro Saturday Afternoon

BOTH TEAMS HAVE HAD POOR SEASON

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 1—Edinboro Red Raiders come to New Wilmington Saturday in an attempt either to lose their 16th straight or take their first game in the past two years, when they lock horns with the Titans who have dropped four straight this season.

The only change Coach Gilbane will make in his lineup will be to retain Earl Wright, as fullback with Mintz and Clark, regulars, temporarily benched, but subject to call if the former Bessemer back fails to gain.

Westminster will be the toughest opposition Edinboro has faced this year, and Titan backers hope for a victory. A pep meeting will be held Friday night in the gymnasium to prepare campus followers of the team for a real win and not another moral victory.

Butler, New Castle guard, who sat for two years on the side-line bench seems slated for a regular guard position in his senior year on the Titan squad. Six feet tall and weighing 190 pounds, Butler has been constantly improving throughout the season; he will get a chance to play Saturday, probably in the starting lineup, with Kozar, McKeesport guard, out for the remainder of the season due to injuries.

The lineup for Saturdays game is as follows:

Westminster		Edinboro
Austen	L E	Seopetti
Susko	L T	Hastie
Butler	L G	Mischeles
Jones	C	Dennison
Krulatz	R G	Kilchner
Watt	R T	Witalias
Brooks	R E	Shaffer

Union Junior Hi Eleven Wins At Bessemer 6 To 0

Wotowitz Scores For Union Junior High Gridders In Tough Battle

Union Junior High football team went to Bessemer yesterday and came home with a 6 to 0 victory over the Bessemer Junior High eleven. The lone Union touchdown was made by Joe Wotowitz in the third period. The game was a hard fought affair in every period. The teams were fairly evenly matched.

Coach Boyd started a strong Union lineup, as did Coach Fredericks, of Bessemer. Union scored following a fumble by Medure on the Bessemer 8 yard line.

The Union Varsity will be idle this week, but will get back into action next Friday at the Union High field by meeting Shenango High for the county championship.

The lineups—

Union 6		Bessemer 0

Polish Falcons Will Have Fast Basketball Team

Polish Falcons Will Have Veteran Combination Back On Court

The Polish Falcons will have another fast basketball team this year, it was indicated at the first practice of the team held at the Polish Falcon floor. The Falcons won the independent and city floor titles last year.

The following are expected to prove valuable to the Falcons this year: Henry Koszela, formerly with New Castle high, Russ Kawa, Joe Kolodjeski, "Slim" Kolodjeski, Joe Sniezek, Ed. "Jake" Kendra, Walter Kwolek, Frank Noga, Wincey, W. Koszela, Alphonse Frankovich, John Noga and Alex Sniezek.

The season will open on November 30. The Falcons would like to arrange a few practice games.

COLLEGE GRID NOTES IN BRIEF

(International News Service)

YORK, Nov. 1—With everything to gain by licking the Pitt Panthers tomorrow, and not much to lose, Fordham's Rams completed pregame workouts today. Though 2 to 1 underdogs in the betting, the Rams are at full strength and believe they can beat Frank Patrick and Co.

PRINCETON, N. J. Nov. 1—Constable, Sandbach, White and Pauk will operate as the first string backfield today as Princeton engages in its final workout before meeting Navy tomorrow. Le Van, though not slated to start, will see action against the Middies, with only Homer Spofford among the Tiger regulars doomed to bench-warming. Spofford dislocated an ankle two weeks ago.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 1—Art Valpey, sophomore, will replace Mike Savage, veteran end, in the starting lineup against Penn here tomorrow, Coach Harry Kipke announced today. John Viergever veteran tackle, probably will not be able to play because of injuries. Line scrimmage occupied most of yesterday's drill with a light workcut scheduled for today.

BERKLEY, Cal., Nov. 1—Ten thousand nothern California rooters will accompany the University of California football team south tonight to Los Angeles where the Golden Bears clash with the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins for the Pacific coast conference leadership.

Basketball Meeting Is Called For "Y"

Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. today announced the first meeting of the year for the Church and Young Men's Sunday School basketball league. The meeting will be held at the "Y" next Tuesday night at 7:15 o'clock. The meeting is open to all churches who care to enter floor teams.

Teams in the 1934-35 leagues are asked to register next Tuesday. Also new teams desiring to join either league. Plans are being made for a fast league in both divisions. Practice sessions will start within a few days.

An extra large amount of enthusiasm is being stirred up for basketball this winter.

Three New Teams

The following teams composed the Church League last year—St. Michaels, church league champions, coached by Michael "Jake" Babovsky. The First Christians, First M. E., Epworth M. E., Sacred Hearts, Tifereth Israel.

The following teams made up the Young Men's Sunday School league—First Baptist, Mahoning Presbyterian, St. Michaels "B", Highland U. P., First Christians, Third U. P., St. Johns Lutherans.

MacNichols would like to have representatives present from the following churches at the meeting—St. Paul's Lutheran, First Presbyterian and Croton M. E.

HORSESHOE TOSSERS TO MEET ON SUNDAY

New Castle hoseshoe pitchers today were asked to report to the Allen street courts on Sunday, November 3 at 2 p. m. to organize a team of "best pitchers" which will represent New Castle in future court contests. William Johnson issued the call to the men.

College Boy (to dad at football game)—"Now you'll get more excitement for your $2 than you ever saw before."

Dad—"I don't know about that. That is all my marriage license cost me."

Arizona Negro Defeats Olin

Light Heavyweight Championship Of World Goes To John Henry Lewis

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1.—John Henry Lewis, Arizona negro, is the new light heavyweight champion of the world.

The dusky fighter won his title shortly after midnight this morning when he decisively defeated Bob Olin and was awarded the decision at the end of their 15-round bout.

Lewis had the New York titleholder on the verge of a knockout in the twelfth round. Though he hammered Olin unmercifully with terrific rights and lefts to the jaw. The New Yorker miraculously kept his feet. His knees buckled and he offered no defense as the negro's punches bounced him against the ropes. It was a magnificent but futile and pathetic exhibition of gameness.

Olin Carries Fight

Olin carried the fight to the colored boy in the first two rounds, winning them easily and hinting that he had the situation well in hand.

But in the third round Lewis snaked terrific left hooks to the champion's jaw, and prophesied the end when a hard-swinging right snapped Olin's head back.

Olin never seemed to recover from that third round, his punches losing both their sting and their accuracy.

TOLEDO SHOWING RESULTS OF BOOM

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O.—Showing a gain of 18.2 per cent in September over the corresponding month last year, which incidentally, was the highest point since June, 1931, business in Northwestern Ohio has reached the highest level in five years.

Employment in 54 plants was 23,311, showing a gain of 32 per cent over last year, and electric power consumption was best since September 1929.

Department store sales are up 14 per cent, or to the 1930 level, and it was reported that more telephones now are in service than at any time since recovery began.

Shellogg Suffers Broken Right Leg

Fullback On Junior Varsity Team Sustains Injury In Scrimmage

Edward Shellogg, aged 17, of West Chartes street, fullback on the Junior varsity team at New Castle high school, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, during scrimmage last evening. He sustained the injury during the second quarter of the practice game.

The full extent of Shellogg's injuries were not determined until after he had been removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital, X-rays revealing that both bones had been broken in his leg.

Tech-Duquesne Clash Saturday

Pittsburgh In State Of Football Siege For Annual Home Classic

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Pittsburgh was in the state of football siege today, but the warriors of Carnegie Tech and Duquesne University had deserted the battlefront until war is officially declared tomorrow afternoon here.

The teams high-tensioned over the impending inter-city battle, sought seclusion far from the din and dither of the Smoky City and practiced in secret, they will not enter the city until a few hours before game time.

Coaches Flanagan, of the Dukes, and Harpster, of the Scotch, decided Pittsburgh was no place for their proteges now at their peak of priming, and ferreted them away to places far from the maddening crowd.

Tech Confident

Having upset the powerful Purdue apple-cart, the Skiboes were believed to have finally hit their stride, and the past few days of practice indicated the Harpsterites had found themselves. Likewise, the Dukes, after a tragic string of set-backs, did quick work with Washington University, and, after a two weeks rest, were in the pink.

The two teams, mixed with a bit of inter-city rivalry, will probably give Father Pitt something to oh and ah over tomorrow afternoon.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Small game hunters were in their Paradise today and reports from various sections of Lawrence county say that hunters and their dogs are on the alert in almost every field and thicket in the county. The writer at 5 a. m. today combed some of the roads to get an idea of how many hunters were in quest of rabbits, squirrel and birds and when daylight broke he saw them walking through fields, thickets and heard the dogs giving tongue to the chase. Rabbits bounded across highways and with not only "bunnies" reported plentiful reports also state that there are more birds and squirrels in this section than for several years past. Automobile traffic along some of the highways was as heavy at the break of day as on July 4. None of them apparently were losing any time in reaching the spot where they believed that they would be able to bag some rabbits, quail, squirrel, grouse, ringnecks, or rabbits.

Aubrey Epps, 21, catcher for the Pirates, is seriously ill of pneumonia in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital. The crisis has not yet been reached, according to hospital attendants. . . Fort Hayes Teachers uniforms at Atchison, Kan., were weighed before a game on a soggy field. They each weighed 10 pounds. After the game the scales showed each uniform weighed 40 pounds. . . Saetta and Ottevaire,, Italian-Belgium bicycle team, riding at Pittsburgh in the six day grind, lead the field by one lap. Since midnight Sunday they have travelled 1,594 miles and three laps. . . . They'll lead Primo Carnera into the ring tonight against Walter Neuse', German. The scrap is scheduled for New York. Primo is favored to win, the odds being 6 to 5.

Grid Teams To Battle Sunday In Tournament

Two Games Listed For West Side Fields, Six Teams In Tourney

PLAYER LISTS ARE TURNED IN

New Castle's first independent football elimination tourney will start here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with two games listed. Both games will be played on West Side fields. There are six teams seeking the independent championship through the medium of elimination.

Ryantown will tangle with the Abrahams at the Ryantown field at 3 o'clock. The Sixth Ward Firemen will meet the Croton Progressives at the Lee Avenue field at 3 o'clock.

The New Castle All-Stars and the Wabash Bears of the Seventh Ward will play their tourney game on Sunday, November 10.

Only six teams will participate in the tourney. The winner of the tourney will be the recognized independent football champions.

Player Lists Filed

The Abrahams will have the following men in their lineup—H. Hortig, Hitchens, Otlowski, Wright, Boazzo, Miron, Nocera, George, Uffie, Ferrara, Brown, Deep, Justine, A. Hortig, Neyman, Gray, Mike, T. Mike, Johns, Russell, Albert, Perch, Price, Abraham, Blundo, Mickey Gazzell is the manager of the Abrahams.

The Ryantown roster will read as follows—D. Hartman, Carter, H. Kline, Armstrong, P. Robinson, M. Gibson, G. Bunnell, J. Campbell, H. Gray, Paul Elder, R. Kneram, L. Malls, D. Vincent, Chebo, B. Chamberlin, Swede Nelson, Roberts and C. Kneram.

Sixth Ward Firemen will use the following players in the tourney—J. Schaas, G. Schaas, Douglas, Monico, Severa, R. Fabian, P. Fabian, J. Rowbottom, F. Rowbottom, Custer, Morrison, Kirker, Hughes, D. Bevan, W. Bevan, Huffner, Del-Principe, G. Kennedy, H. Kennedy, Carr, Wochner, Otto, Houk, Weinshank, Denny, Jones, Webber, Ziegler, DeLone, F. Jones. Charles Fox in the business manager of the Firemen.

The Croton Progressives will lineup with the following men under "Lundy" Aven—D. Leonelli, Rubeis, A. Lastoria, L. Malls, G. Kneram, Morgan, B. Kneram, Cook, Gwin, O. Aven, Malley, Mundziak, W. Aven, T. Leonelli, Gentile, Goclano, and Gallagher.

Officials Named

There is considerable interest being displayed in the coming tourney games.

Carnera-Neusel To Meet Tonight

Heavyweights Will Do Battle In Madison Square Garden Tonight

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Primo Carnera, giant Italian heavyweight, and Walter Neusel, of Germany, will attempt to stave off exclusion from the big time heavyweight picture, when they meet tonight over the ten round route at Madison Square Garden.

Carnera and Neusel are literally battling for their ring lives, a defeat meaning eliminating from consideration in the heavyweight field for either boxer.

Neusel, with a fair record has been installed the favorite. His last major appearance, against Max Schmeling ended disastrously, when the Black Uhlan severely cut Walter's eye forcing the referee to stop the bout.

A recent census in England shows there are more than 1,650,000 childless couples in that country.—Pathfinder.

Sport Brevities Along Broadway

Yale Favored To Defeat Dartmouth, Pitt Picked To Beat Fordham

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Along Broadway today one learns the tennis pros are bent on running an open tournament here in January...with or without U. S. L. T. A. sanction...and with Vinnie Richards in the driver's seat.

Its a hundred to one the amateur officials will turn thumbs down... So any amateur who plays with the pros will automatically become a pro...thus turning the open into a pro tournament.

Which reminds me of a conundrum ...What world famous British tennis amateur draws $15,000 a year for using a certain British manufacturer's racquet?...thus turning his racquet into a racket.

Yale Favored.

And were you aware General Charles Sherrill of the Olympic committee originated the crouching start for sprinters...When a Yale freshman...he also won seven intercollegiate titles...and now at 68 will bet he can outspeed any man 20 years younger.

Wall street is quoting Yale 6 to 5 over Dartmouth...Princeton 8 to 5 over Navy...Ohio State 7 to 5 over Notre Dame...Penn 9 to 5 over Michigan...Pitt 5 to 2 over Fordham...Army 2 to 1 over Miss. State ...Minnesota 2 to 1 over Purdue and Northwestern 6 to 5 over Illinois... the U. C. L. A.-California and Temple-Michigan State are quoted at 2 to 3 and you pick 'em.

Dartmouth looks like the best shortender of the day...and if you like short prices Notre Dame, Fordham and Purdue look like good bets at those prices.

Has Tough Job.

Benny Friedman, C. C. N. Y. coach, says he has the toughest job in football...because none of his players ever saw a football game before entering college....Other coaches get lads who played in school and high schools...but Benny has to teach them the ABC's of the game...Benny says his Jewish boys make great football players... Strangely enough, great Jewish baseball stars have been few and far between...but Jewish boys are wonders on a basketball court.

Some probable trading material ...By the Cubs, Lindstrom and English...By the Cards, Hallahan, Walker and Phil Collins...By the Giants, Parmelee, Davis, Gabler and Stout...by the Pirates, the Waners, Suhr and Grace...By the Dodgers, Leslie and Stripp...By the Reds, Frey and Johnson...By the Braves, anybody but Berger...By the Phils, anybody or everybody for a price.

SPORTS PULSE PENNSYLVANIA

By VIC JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—Gene Tunney, who quoted Rabelais, Milton, Shakespeare and other literary greats with all the readiness that we "low brows" indulge in slang, seems to have spread contagion among the boxers with his classics . . . "Wee Willie" Davies, retired Charleroi flyweight, is the latest "pug" to attempt to quench the thrist-for-knowledge . . . Davies, who knew few or no masters at his peak, is spending his ring earnings for tuition as a physical education student at Pitt . . . He earned his high school credits only two years ago and is in his college freshman year.

Football seems to be following in the footsteps of baseball and other sports in regard to unseasonal return games . . . In playing Detroit tomorrow, Villanova will be meeting the Titans on successive week ends and St. Thomas of Scranton has arranged to replay St. Bonaventure College on November 24.

A new version of that "McGannon run" of the Carnegie Tech-Purdue game says that Tommy McGannon didn't stumble with the ball in the last quarter with a clear field ahead as you probably heard on the broadcast, but that Quarterback Spisak tagged him off balance in a final tartan lunge at the Boilermaker back while he was escaping with what looked like the tying touchdown.

Coach Tod Coronway who, in his first year, has regenerated football at Lansdowne Hi to the spotlight it held a decade ago, turned in his biggest hit last Saturday when the Delco team forced a top-heavy favored Lower Merion eleven out of the undefeated class, 7-6.

BOY MAYOR HOPES FOR RE-ELECTION

(International News Service)

BELLVILLE, O.—Twenty-four year-old Edgar R. Stahl, the "boy mayor" of Bellville, a village in southern Richland county, announced he will seek re-electiion at the November 5 election.

Stahl, one of the three youngest Independent mayors in the United States, was elected two years ago as a third party candidate. He polled two-thirds of the village votes.

Market Turns Irregular, Steels And Motors Set Pace

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market turned irregular today after steels and motors set the pace for the early upswing but then reacted on profit-taking. Chrysler slipped under the previous close. Bethlehem gave some ground. Auburn lost 2 points.

General Motors was firm in advance of Monday's board meeting, with Wall Street discussing the possibility of an extra dividend. U. S. Steel slipped after early strength.

Schenley hit a new high in liquors. Kennecott bettered its previous high and aided the other coppers.

Philip Morris rose a point to a new high and other tobaccos were firm. Owens Illinois Glass ran up more than 2 points to a new high.

Timkin Roller Bearings was strong in auto accessories. Rails were quiet and just about steady.

Mail order and merchandising shares were firm. Utilities were around best prices of the year. Cotton was steady and grains fractionally higher. Bonds displayed an upward tendency.

FINAL CLASS AA GAME FOR ELLWOOD

Capacity Crowd Expected To Witness Last Home Game With Aliquippa High

TUBERS PRIMED FOR IMPORTANT CONTEST

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Ellwood City high school will play their final home game and Class AA football game at Lincoln Field on Saturday afternoon when Coach Nate Lippe's strong Aliquippa high gridders invade this city for a contest which looms as the outstanding one in this district.

The coming game has piqued the interest and curiosity of local fans. The blue and white's remarkable improvement in the past two or three games has stamped them as an opponent to be reckoned with. Tomorrow the Schillmen have great hopes for an upset victory over the highly touted valley machine.

All this week the locals have been drilling hard. Installed as the underdogs has caused the Tubers to put determination and zest in their preparation. The locals realize that they will be facing a team that has a decided edge in man power and realize that they will have to be in tip top shape to withstand the thrusts of the Lippemen. Ellwood is ready to unleash every play and trick in their repertoire in order to gain victory. Several new fancy plays have been imparted to them by Coach Schill this week. They brushed up on their ground attack and then spent considerable time on the aerial offense and defense. Ellwood has yet to be really tested in their passing game. It is believed that the blue and white has an effective aerial game but has not had occasion to use it. This will be on hand for tomorrow's game.

Tomorrow will be the first time in several weeks that the Ellwood Wolverines will be realy fit for action. Practically all the injuries have responded to rest and care. Ellwood will really be at full strength for tomorrow's game. Bill Young, one of the district's outstanding halfbacks and leading scorers, who has been bothered with a shoulder and leg injury, is reported fully recovered. His work in practices this week gladdened the hearts of local followers. Captain Mike Kraynak, who is being touted as an All W. P. I. A. L. center, is in tip top shape and rarin' to go. The same can be said about Joe Pishioneri and Si Hughes, who were also on the injured list.

A promising showing has been made by second stringers in the workouts this week who will see plenty of action tomorrow. Andy Gibb, guard; Welsh and Bartle, ends; Biego, fullback; and Metz, halfback, have been impressive. Two changes appear probable in tomorrow's lineup. Jiggs Hazen will replace Jim Flanagan at right end, who has a strained ligament in his leg. Flanagan will be in uniform, but will not be used unless extremely necessary. The other change will be Funari, the speed merchant, who will start at quarterback in place of Luxenberg. His speed on offense and defensive ability give him the nod over Luxenberg in this game. The remainder of the lineup will be intact. The locals have been working hard this week on a defense to stop Gnup, Aliquippa's All-W. P. I. A. L. quarterback, and the colored speedsters, Walker and Dent, the dangerous backfield triumvirate. Other outstanding veterans who played against the locals last year are Todora, end; Antonucci, center; Joseph, guard; and Hribar, tackle.

Dad's Day Program

The fathers of the players will be honored on this final home game of the season. They will march out onto the field together and occupy a reserved section behind the players' bench. They will wear numbers corresponding to the one on their sons' jerseys. Special recognition will be given them on this day. Their patience and influence has been deeply appreciated by Coach Schill and the school.

Besides the program by the band a special feature has been added. James Ansell's gym team composed of G. Morrison, D. Morrison, C. Morrison, Merle DeLong, D. Cable, R. Bracken, J. Conway, H. Miller, T. Evans and R. Timblin, will give a performance between halves. There will be tumbling, somersaults, handstands, cartwheels, etc. All in all it will be a fitting close for the last home game.

The probable lineup:

Ellwood—		Aliquippa—
Hazen	L. E.	Todora
H. Young	L. G.	Vincenzine
Pishioneri	L. T.	Wosotowsky
Kraynak (c)	C.	Antinocci
Miller	R. G.	Gruale
Tammaro	R. T.	Hribar
Hughes	R. E.	Babich
Funari	Q. B.	Galupe
W. Young	L. H.	Gnup
Bognosky	R. H.	Dent or Walker
Scopelite	F. B.	Smaltz

SPECIAL MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—A special meeting will be held in the V. of F. W. Hall on Fourth street, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. A subject of great importance will be discussed, "Sunday Movies or Sunday Worship?" The speaker will be the Rev. Norman Cunningham. Gospel singers are expected to render several numbers, in song.

Banker Is Rotary Speaker Thursday

A. R. Atwood Of Colonial Trust Company, Pittsburgh, Is Principal Speaker

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Members of the Ellwood City Rotary club heard an interesting and enlightening address at their weekly meeting in the First Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

The principal speaker of the evening was A. R. Atwood, vice president of the Colonial Trust company, Pittsburgh. Mr. Atwood stated that the closing up of business of defunct banks is rapidly nearing an end. The new law concerning the securing of deposits in banks is an element in the improvement of the present day. He also declared that the country cannot spend itself out of debt.

Board To Start On Two Projects

Official Approval Is Received; Action Taken At Special Meeting Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Work on two WPA projects submitted by the Ellwood City Board of Education is expected to start within the next ten days.

Official approval of the new roof project for the Lincoln high school and the grading project in the Fourth ward, was recently received. The school board held a special meeting last night and took the necessary action to start work as soon as a few minor details are arranged. This will not exceed ten days.

The North Side project will employ 25 men excavating 1180 cubic feet of dirt and levelling the grounds behind the school building. A stone drain will also be built. This will cost the state $6,000. The school already has the material for the work on hand.

The board decided to do 100 per cent job on the roof and therefore place the flashing under the coping.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Steiner Bauder and family entertained a large circle of relatives and friends at their home near Portersville at a Hallowe'en masquerade party.

Miss Martha Workley was awarded a prize for the best dressed mummer. Games, music and chat held the attention of the group throughout the remainder of the evening.

At a late hour the hostess, assisted by a group of the ladies, served a delicious October luncheon.

Hallowe'en Is Big Success Thursday In Ellwood City

Several Thousand Line Streets To Watch Mummers Parade Last Evening

MANY PRIZES ARE AWARDED AT PARADE

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 1.—Success again crowned Ellwood City's annual Hallowe'en celebration on Thursday evening when a huge parade of mummers and a mammoth crowd participated. The weather man smiled upon the affair and it was a gala event from every angle.

Several thousand lined the principal streets of the city where the route of the parade went. The mummers in the big parade practically represented everything imaginable. There were ghosts, goblins, witches, comic characters, famous characters and other innumerable costumes. General Chairman Paul Reynolds and his well organized committees had the affair run off smoothly.

The parade formed on Crescent avenue and Fourth street. All the various mummers were put in the proper place and then the parade started in good time and order. It was a real holiday for the spirits who roamed through the city with free abandon. They made noise, fun and chased people without any molestation from anyone. Loud laughter prevailed throughout the evening. Despite the friendly attitude of the spirits last night the children were still rather reluctant in letting go their parent's hand.

The parade was an awe-inspiring sight altogether. It was led by the American Legion Bugle and Drum Corps who were an imposing sight in their snappy uniforms. They led the adult division. Then came the local high school band with the children's division and the commercial displays. The band with Joey Wilson as drum major received a hearty hand from the public. Their snappy music and uniforms made a deep impression.

Numerous prizes were awarded to the lucky winners. The judging was done during the route of the parade, which was made the more prominent by the glow of red lights. There was a fine cooperation from the public, which refrained from parking cars on the route of the parade. The Phalanx fraternity operated a concession stand on the Central school grounds.

The evening's program came to a fitting close with a Hallowe'en dance at the Shelby auditorium. The decorations in the place carried out the atmosphere of the occasion. A door prize, prizes for the best costumes and dances were awarded during the evening.

The local Chamber of Commerce and especially the committee in charge deserve a world of credit for staging the annual celebration in such an efficient and capable manner.

Football Fans Should Learn Rules Of Game

Abuse Heaped Upon Officials Lots Of Time When Uncalled For

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—During the course of a recent diatribe against officials and officiating, a great many people seem to have discovered that I don't know the rules of football. I would be greatly alarmed about this if it wasn't for the fact that I suspect more people know the rules than know the game and, besides, I wish to go on record as denying that I have a monopoly upon ignorance. I've known some officials who didn't know the rules, either. Charitably, but not permanently, we'll waive that for the moment.

Real Slugging.

There was slugging in the Michigan-Columbia game last Saturday—two men out in the open and one let the other have it. Nearly everybody saw it, including one of the officials; at least, he appeared to see it, for he ran directly to the spot, which was considerably behind the play, placed his foot beside the two players, held up his hand for attention and then seemed to change his mind. What he couldn't change was the fact that a man had been slugged full on the features and that the offending player and his team were due for a drastic penalty.

I don't think the question of interpretation entered here. I don't even think the official had the right to let the thing ride, in case the offended team decided to waive the penalty. To a man away up there with his chin deep in his typewriter, it looked a little as though the gentleman in half-column pants was taking the easiest way out. This isn't a smoke screen.

Made Mistake.

It isn't even an excuse. I booted one badly last week with some loose and unguarded remarks about the penalty for pass-interference in the end zone. A mis-statement of that kind is without pardon and I'm asking none. But, what, ho, anyhow? I'm still ahead of a few officials I can cite whose mistakes were incredible—and at least one whose mistake constituted moral weakness and, therefore, was no mistake at all.

It came in an Army-Notre Dame game of some years ago during the course of a long run for what proved to be a vital touchdown. The runner was forced well into the sidelines, at one point practically "walking the tight-rope" along the boundary, some 35 yards from the goal line. He then cut back into the open and raced the rest of the way over the goal, but one of the officials ran to the questionable spot, placed his foot there and—yes, he raised his arm for attention.

Ne-Ca-Hi Reserves Hold Gala Party In Y. W. C. A. Gym

Annual Hallowe'en Party Put On By Ne-Ca-Hi Girl Reserves In Y. W. Fine Success

One might have thought a big steamship pulled into dock in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium on Wednesday evening to let its passengers participate in a gala Hallowe'en celebration, when Ne-Ca-Hi Girl Reserves, of which Peggy England is president, assembled to celebrate the holiday, in true holiday fashion, with sailor girls waiting on table.

The gym was transformed into a scene of festivity with orange and black streamers strung about, and numerous individual tables seating guests, encircled the spacious room, in cabaret fashion, each being dimly lighted with a white tallow candle held in place by an old discarded bottle, made the scene more realistic.

The young folks danced about to tantalizing and melodious tunes played by a group of high school boys, the "Tin Pan City Play Boys," headed by Chester Gierlach, completed the picture, and much merriment prevailed throughout the evening. Cabaret girls, decked out in sailor outfits, who rushed in and out, with trays of refreshments, included LaVerne Evans, Edwina Connery, Vivian Kenna, Jean Short and Elizabeth Slaver. They performed their duties to perfection.

Furthering the cabaret idea, a floor show was arranged by Caroline Micco, assisted by Emma Colaluca, that climaxed an evening of real enjoyment. Miss Dorothy Donahy pleased with two popular vocal selections entitled, "From the Top of Your Head" and "What's the Reason," with orchestra accompaniment. Augustine Leone, favored the group with two snappy tap numbers as the next feature, and Miss Billie Glenn donated as her part of the program, two tap solos, like a professional. Afterwards, the dance continued until midnight.

The decorating committee due credit for their splendid efforts in providing a colorful background, comprised Helen Bauman, Peggy England, Geraldine Getty and Mary Lou Hoffman. Miscellaneous details were overseen by Helen Uram and Helen Palkovitch. Advisors of the organization, Miss Geraldine Turk and Miss Mary Purdue, chaperoned the affair.

As the holidays roll around this enthusiastic outfit of girls plan ways of celebrating, but this affair last evening was done up "brown" and marked one of the most successful ever undertaken.
